DEMANDS HELP FOR GRAIN FARMERS

Favor Johnson to Block Third Party

POLITICAL WORLD IN TURMOIL

Defeat of G. O. P. Candidate in Wisconsin Blow to Leaders

G. O. P. SEEKS TO CHECK LA FOLLETTE

New York Progressives Lining Up Behind Ex-Senator Kenyon

(By United Press Leased Wire)
WASHINGTON, July 18.—Some standpatters here were discussing seriously today, the advisability of advancing Hiram Johnson for the Republican nomination to head off a third party move by Senator La Follette.

While there is yet no apparent reason for an assumption that a third party is to be a certainty, there is no doubt that Republican leaders are giving this possibility close and serious attention.

Johnson's friends plan to send up a trial balloon on July 23, when the senator is scheduled to return to New York aboard the Leviathan after four and a half months in Europe.

It is reported that a reception committee headed by such men as Otto H. Kahn, of Kuhn, Loeb and company, Clarence H. Mackay, of the Postal Telegraph and Cable company, Frank A. Munsey, the publisher, and many others of political prominence will be on the dock to meet Johnson.

N. Y. PROGRESSIVES URGING KENYON.
NEW YORK, July 18.—A representative group of progressives here have decided to back William S. Kenyon of Iowa, former senator and national federal judge, for the presidency of the United States in the 1924 elections.

An effort will be made, it is now predicted to put Kenyon before the Republican convention as an opponent candidate to President Harding.

If he fails of nomination an independent nomination probably will be started.

Kenyon was selected, the United Press ascertained today, as a compromise choice between the varying progressives. It is believed, he, more than any other man, can attempt to join the dissatisfied Republican elements, the near progressives and ultra progressives.

Those who are backing the movement say Kenyon would have the farmer vote, the soldier vote and the labor vote. He could come nearer than anyone to joining the Borah group, the Johnson group, the LaFollette group, the Norris group and all those other various groups while they sympathize in most principles, vary widely in others.

"30" Bulletins

BUCHAREST, July 18.—The peak of Caliman mountain 5000 feet high, suddenly collapsed and tumbled inward today. Dense white smoke is pouring out from the debris. It is believed to be the awakening of a century old volcano. So far there have been no casualties.

DETROIT, July 18.—Fifty additional motor boats were seized in the Detroit river today by federal authorities, in their campaign to stop smuggling of booze from Canada to Detroit. Today's seizures bring the total of captured boats to 300 since the campaign was started last week.

DETROIT, July 18.—Babe Ruth made his twenty-second home run of the season here in the seventh inning of today's game with Detroit. Holloway was the pitcher.

MASON, Mich., July 18.—Miss Emma Koppke, 59, found guilty of murdering her foster son, Harry Brill Koppke, 12, by poisoning, late today was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Detroit house of correction.

Woman Drives Plane 16,400 Feet in Sky in Setting Record

MRS. BERTHA DALE HORCHEM.

Claims Thrills Lacking as She Rides Three Miles Above Earth

RANSOM, Kas., July 18.—Soaring more than three miles above the earth is not so much of a thrill! That's what Mrs. Bertha Dale Horchem of this city, who holds the altitude record for women fliers, says.

She recently attained the height of 16,400 feet at St. Louis in a Curtiss plane with a Hispano-Suiza eight-cylinder, 180 horsepower motor.

"It wasn't nearly so exciting as was my first flight a year ago," the record breaker says.

She takes more pride in the fact that she learned to pilot a plane in a week, than in her altitude record.

How does it feel to "go up in the air three miles?"

"Going up the first 8000 feet there was no trouble," she says. "The other 8400 feet took an hour and a half."

"Although the thermometer registered 90 degrees on the ground, it was intensely cold when we reached 14,000 feet."

"We wore fur-lined coats with woolen and leather helmets and heavy gloves. Yet, when I looked out from behind the windshield it felt as if my face was being cut with sleet. My fingers became numb with cold."

"Coming down, I took my time for I knew it wouldn't do to change back to the normal temperature too quickly."

The previous altitude record for women was 15,000 feet — made by Mile. Andree Peyre of France at Los Angeles.

Women have not as yet approached the men's record, held by Lieutenant John C. Macready at 40,800.

Asks $4000 Damages For Box Car Injury

Suit for damages aggregating $4,109.80, brought against the Anaheim Citrus Fruit association by a former employee, D. M. Forsythe, was on file today in the superior court here.

Claiming to have sustained injuries by falling from the top of a refrigerator car, while he was manipulating the car's brakes at the packing house, July 18, 1922, Forsythe asks $2500 damages for his injuries, $604.80 for loss of wages, $505 for employment of a nurse and $500 for doctor's fees. He claimed to have been disabled for twenty-eight weeks after the accident.

Attorney Leonard Evans of Anaheim represents Forsythe.

Smuggling of Huge Booze Cargo Into State Stirrs Dry Officials

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Federal prohibition and coast guard officials here today prepared to redouble their vigilance against landing of liquor on the coast of California by vessels from British Columbia following the smuggling in of a large quantity of whiskey Monday.

According to reports to prohibition headquarters here today, the Malahat was cleared from Vancouver, B. C., a few days ago with a cargo of lumber and whiskey for Australia.

Monday, according to reports reaching here, the steamer met a fleet of fishing smacks off

U. S. BALKS AT BRITISH PLANS

FEDERAL AID FOR ALASKA UNDER BAN

President, After Trip to North, Holds People Must Solve Problems

ABOARD PRESIDENT HARDING'S TRAIN EN ROUTE TO SEWARD, Alaska, July 18.—President Harding is going to have a cabinet meeting on Alaskan problems soon after boarding the transport Henderson for the return to the United States.

Secretaries Work, Wallace and Hoover will complete their intimate study of fisheries, coal, railroad and general mining with hearings at Anchorage and Seward. The data will be assembled and discussed.

The president will work out a general plan for his Alaska speech to be delivered at Seattle July 27. He has very clear impressions and convictions regarding Alaska as a result of his personal contact on the coast and in the interior. This he intends to frankly express in his speech.

Among his Alaskan convictions in the Seattle speech, Harding will include that the country's future is a matter of gradual and probably slow development for the coming decade at least, that it would be a mistake to try to "bull" Alaska or give it property by artificial means, including the use of government money; that the people here should be allowed to work out their own destinies without too much interference from Washington; and that Alaska should be given a directing voice in Washington in the bureau dealing with Alaskan affairs.

Mr. Harding also feels that Alaskan fisheries must be wisely restricted, while coal mining and lumber activities must be stimulated where possible. He realizes, however, that no development of their resources is possible under present conditions.

Girl Revives Old Family Feud By Shooting Aunt

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 18.—The Hicks and the Hancock family feud which has smoldered for years in southeastern Douglas county, blazed anew with the alleged shooting by Bertha Hancock, pretty 20 year old school teacher of her aunt, Mrs. John Hicks.

The girl, in jail at Ava, is held on a charge of shooting with intent to kill. A charge from a shotgun tore off Mrs. Hicks' left arm and her condition is serious.

Bertha said her aunt had been running down her character for some time and witnesses said before the shooting she told Mrs. Hicks: "You'll have to eat those words."

NAB ARIZONA POSTMASTER FOR THEFTS

Authorities Charge Prisoner With Absconding with Money Order Blanks.

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Frederick M. McElroy, postmaster of Golden Rod, Ariz., was arrested today and charged with absconding with a number of money order blanks, part of which he is alleged to have cashed.

Search for a woman companion of McElroy is being made by police who hope to recover the balance of the money order blanks from her.

SOUNDINGS OF F BEACH PIER ARE TAKEN

((Special to The Register))

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 18.—Soundings taken in a boat off the municipal pier here at low tide early this morning by City Engineer Louis F. Gates and a staff of assistants were this afternoon being computed in preparation for the submission of the report to the city council Monday evening.

The soundings were taken as a result of the presentation to the council of a petition signed by a large number of property owners here asking that the pier be extended so that boats on the Catalina run could dock here and also that oil tankers might take on the product from the local oil field direct.

The soundings were taken at 5 o'clock when the tide was at the ebb. A boat from Balboa was chartered and after the work was completed returned to the county harbor.

Deaths taken from the end of the pier by J. S. Thatcher, Edward Carney and F. T. Germany of the city engineering staff revealed twenty-two feet of water. The extension of the pier to forty foot water so that any steamer could make Huntington Beach a port of call is said to be the desire of the petitioners.

THREATENS MAN FOR STRIKING GIRL

(By United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Enraged by the action of Sam Rose, union picket, in attacking and beating Miss Mary Gargone, a garment worker, a group of men at Ninth and Main streets today attempted to mob Rose.

Officer J. F. Tilton arrived in time to save Rose, but had to draw his revolver to drive back the mob which was shouting "lynch him."

Rose accosted Miss Gargone when she was about to enter the shop. When she refused to talk to him he is alleged to have struck her several times in the face, cutting her painfully, and knocking her to the sidewalk. The crowd immediately rushed on Rose.

PROPOSAL OF BALDWIN IS ATTACKED

Linking of Allied Debts to U. S. With Present Crisis Under Fire

LONDON, July 18.—Last minute charges were made today in the draft of the British note to Germany on the subject of reparations. In consequence final approval of the cabinet will not be obtained under tomorrow and delivery of copies of the note to the various allies may be delayed a day.

(By United Press Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, July 18.—The United States government will refuse to participate in the British plan for settlement of the Ruhr and reparations crisis if it involves the question of allied debts to this country, it was indicated in high official quarters here today.

Premier Baldwin of Great Britain in his speech in parliament last week, referred to inter-allied debts, stating that a settlement of this question is one of the essentials to dispelling the cloud now hanging over Europe.

Both high officials and diplomatic quarters here believe that the reference to this subject by Baldwin was a mistake if he hopes the United States will join in a general effort to bring about a settlement of the strife over the Ruhr and reparations.

BRITISH PUBLISHER WOULD GIVE FRANCE FREE HAND

LONDON, July 18.—Great Britain should "clear out of Europe" and let France "settle her account with Germany by her own methods," Lord Beaverbrook, proprietor of the London Express, declared today in a statement on the eve of publication of the British note to Germany.

SEE END OF TREATY IN NEW BRITISH MOVE

PARIS, July 18.—French official circles are displaying apprehension over the forthcoming British note to Germany, a draft of which is to be forwarded here. Only the most reserved comments are forthcoming. A considerable portion of the press sees in the British move to reach agreement on reparations through other means than force in the Ruhr, a scrapping of the Versailles treaty and an end to the entente.

Man Kills Wife and Kin; Gives Self Up

WAVERLY, Mo., July 18.—William Plunkett today shot and killed his wife, mother-in-law and sister-in-law during a family quarrel. He surrendered to authorities, who guarded him closely for fear of mob violence. The dead: Mrs. Minnie Tubbs, her daughter, Jane and Mrs. Plunkett.

28 Drowned Seeking To Escape from Heat

BERLIN, July 18.—The morgue at Breslau is filled with bodies of those who drowned in the River Oder while seeking relief from the terrific heat this week. Twenty-eight were drowned.

NICE PARTY

PARIS, July 18.—Battling Sikki, the Senegalese boxer, was fined five pounds here the other day for being drunk, assaulting a policeman and firing a pistol in a cafe.

Bride Is Found Dead as Father Brings News of Injury to Mate

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 18.—Shot to death in her honeymoon cottage, at Port Perry, near Padock, Pa., the body of Mrs. Julia Coyne, 15-year-old bride, was found under the bed clothing today.

The discovery was made by John Conroy, father of the girl; after repeated efforts to locate her and inform her that her husband had both legs in a railroad accident during the night.

The girl had been dead at least 12 hours when the body

'Sweet Papa' Cry Palmists As Court Frees Them

"Sweet papa," she cried and kissed the colonel's hand. Colonel W. F. Heathman, city recorder, responded with true Southern grace, though he hazarded the suggestion that the term of endearment had lost its charm through over-frequent use.

It happened when the city purveyor of justice suspended a jail sentence of sixty days imposed on two Indian women fortune tellers, Rosa and Marie Mitchell.

Rosa and Marie looked glum, despite their gay colored garments, when they heard: "Sixty days in jail."

Colonel Heathman allowed the moment of suspense. Then he suspended the sentence.

AVERS SEWER IN ASPARAGUS WORTH $540

Two Rows of Vegetables Destroyed in Pipe Laying, Japanese Say.

Asserting that two rows of asparagus had been ruined by an implement used by B. R. Ford, contractor, in the installation of one of the city's sewer mains through his property, S. Nitti today had on file with City Clerk Ed Vegely a demand against the city and Ford for $540 damages.

Stanley Keilhaus represents the Japanese. According to Reinhaus, Nitti had been growing the asparagus for two years and that it was reaching the age where it would begin to return revenue. He declared it will take four years to replace the destroyed vegetable and asked the equivalent of about $65 per row per year.

Reinhaus said if the city and the contractor refused to pay the claim the matter would be taken into the courts.

GRILL SUSPECT IN MURDER ON CRIME SCENE

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, alleged "closet" murderer of her wealthy manufacturer husband, is back in jail today after a short visit to her home under police escort.

Detectives who accompanied the bob-haired widow, helped re-enact the events of that night in August, 1922, when she was found kicking and screaming in a locked closet near the body of her slain husband.

The official investigation of the scene of the crime centered on the lock of the closet door. Detectives made several experiments to determine whether the lock was such a type that would have permitted Mrs. Oesterreich to lock herself in without outside aid.

Several official photographs were taken of the room and of the door to be used in the preliminary hearing July 25.

The widow was again questioned closely but she stood steadily to the story that she told immediately after her husband's death, that burglars had locked her in the closet before any shots were fired.

FLIVVERS ARE HIGH

LIVERPOOL, July 18.—Due to the difference in price of Ford cars in England and the United States, prices now placed on good used cars in most of the big cities are higher here than they are for new models in America. A good 1921 touring car sells for about 90 pounds, or nearly $450.

RIVALING AMERICA

MANCHESTER, July 18.—Radio broadcast managers are gradually increasing their programs until they now equal in quality and length those of the American stations. Stations throughout England are broadcasting many nights up to 11 p. m.

Chinese Pirates War On British Shipping

SHANGHAI, July 18.—Chinese river pirates attacked a British steamer, the Fuh-Wo on the Yangtze-Kiang between Chungking and Ichang, according to reports reaching here today. Two Chinese passengers are said to have been wounded. Details are unavailable.

NEWSOLON IN FIGHT FOR AID

Farmer-Labor Senator Plans to Call Parley of Wheat State Men

DECLARES FARMERS ARE FACING RUIN

Harding Holds Move for Congressional Relief Is Futile

(By United Press Leased Wire)

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 18.—Senator-elect Magnus Johnson,

Minnesota, today joined Senator Brookhart, Iowa, in a demand that a special session of congress be called to "save the wheat farmer from ruin by low prices."

Johnson also announced that he is considering calling a conference on senators and congressmen from wheat states to discuss wheat prices and otherwise "correct economic conditions."

"Thousands of farmers face utter ruin as the result of dropping wheat 'prices,'" Johnson said. "Something must be done and done quickly or there will be no more grain farmers."

The Minnesota senator-elect feels that the American farmer should also be protected by an immediate wheat embargo owing to the abundant crops of Canada and foreign countries.

WITH PRESIDENT HARDING SEWARD, ALASKA, July 18.—President Harding is unimpressed by the political menace seen in the Minnesota senatorial election, which, he thinks, resulted entirely from local conditions.

Warning of Senator Brookhart that something must be done for the farmers if the Republican administration expects to win in 1924 has also left the President unmoved. He will not embark on any sudden farm relief program.

Mr. Harding is of the opinion that efforts to save the farmers or any other class by artificial means, such as congressional legislation, are as futile as for a man to attempt to lift himself by his own bootstraps.

Farmers and all other classes must work out their own salvation with whatever help the government can give in the normal, regular way, the President feels.

If the farmer spokesmen, like Brookhart will frame specific recommendations for helping the farmers they will be given administration consideration, Mr. Harding assures, but he holds that as far as it can in helping agriculture and time must now be given the farm credits act to work before any additional farm legislation will be sponsored.

OFFER $200,000 TO DEMPSEY FOR FIGHT

ENID, Okla., July 18.—An offer of $200,000, plus 25 per cent of the movie receipts and ten per cent of the "gate" to stage Jack Dempsey's Labor day fight here, was wired late today to Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

Bert Austin, prominent sporting goods dealer here, who is said to represent a group of wealthy Oklahoma business men, Dempsey's opponent was not designated in the offer.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Tex Rickard, Jack Kearns and Luis Firpo again conferred here late today on terms and the scene of the Firpo-Jack Dempsey fight. No decision was reached.

Firpo after the conference said he still strongly favored having the fight staged in his native Argentina. Rickard said he had not yet decided where to hold the bout.

Chinese Pirates War On British Shipping

SHANGHAI, July 18.—Chinese river pirates attacked a British steamer, the Fuh-Wo on the Yangtze-Kiang between Chungking and Ichang, according to reports reaching here today. Two Chinese passengers are said to have been wounded. Details are unavailable.

Mother Sent Model Made From Airplane in Which Son Crashed

The tragedy of the death of Lieutenant Egbert McKean, son of Mrs. Marile M. McKean, 840 North Broadway, this city, when a Curtiss military plane he was operating fell at Jennings Landing field, La., February 11, 1918, was recalled here today by friends to whom Mrs. McKean displayed a miniature plane, made from wreckage of the ship that caused her son's death.

The model was made by Walter D. Morse, secretary and treasurer of the Morse Hardware company, Ltd., at Jennings, and has finally come into possession of the one the maker originally intended it should.

Morse witnessed the accident. Following the clearing of the wreckage, he picked up fragments of the plane and manufactured the miniature model. Every piece in the model came from the original plane.

The sentiment back of the presentation of the gift is one that has touched the heart of its recipient and she so informed the donor.

Mother Is Traced.

Describing the plane, Morse said in a letter, advising Mrs. McKean of the sending of the model:

"All of the wood except the propeller is spruce, and is part of the original No. 2769 (the number of the wrecked plane). The propeller is mahogany and part of the original one. The bits of copper wire, sheet copper in the wheels, and the brass nails holding the wheels and propeller are from the original plane. The little mahogany frame around the card (which bears the date of the accident and other data) is made from the 'chart frame' from the instrument board of the original."

Morse first wrote a letter here to Mrs. McKean, directing the postmaster to "deliver this to the mother or near relative of Egbert McKean, who was killed in an airplane accident while in training at Jennings field, February 11, 1918." The writer was not sure that Mrs. McKean still resided here. The epistle was written first to ascertain whether the mother or some near relative would like to have the model.

Used Pocket Knife. Recounting that he had found the fragments on the field and, with the aid of pocket knife and sandpaper, he had built the miniature model, Morse wrote:

"This little model has been kept in a glass case and has been admired by many—especially the children."

"Many have wanted it, but I have always had the desire to give it to the mother or some near relative of the young man who gave his life for his country just as truly as though he had died on the fields of France."

"My object in writing is to get in touch with a near relative—his mother, I hope—but if she is not living, the father, brother, or sister. I have no financial aim in mind. I have nothing to sell. I want to give the little plane to the one who will

ESCAPES DEATH IN FALL DOWN MOUNTAIN

That Vernon Bishop, member of the local firm of Smith and Bishop, recently fell fifty feet down a mountainside and narrowly escaped death in the White Mountains of Riverside county, became known here today. He is at the home of his brother-in-law, Jay Cutler, at Banning, recovering from his injuries. In a letter to E. B. Smith, he said that his left leg was badly bruised but that no bones were broken. He was confined to his bed at the time of writing.

Cutler and Bishop were in the mountains on a fishing trip. Bishop was walking along a narrow trail on the side of the mountain, when his head came in contact with an overhanging branch which caused him to lose his footing. He fell down the mountainside fifty feet to the edge of a steep cliff, seriously injuring his left leg. According to reports from Riverside, Bishop saved himself from slipping over the steep bluff by grasping some brush and holding fast until he could be rescued from his perilous position.

Bishop intimated in his letter that it probably would be some days before he would be sufficiently recovered to attempt the journey home from Banning.

Son of S. A. Attorney Loses Two Fingers

Julian Heim, son of Carl Heim, Santa Ana attorney, suffered the loss of two fingers of his right hand early today in an accident at a local bakery, where he was employed. Young Heim was said to have been working at a bread-mixing machine shortly after midnight when the accident occurred. His hand becoming caught in the machinery, the index and middle fingers were severed. He was removed to the Community hospital.

Battery Charge Fails; Complainant Missing

A charge of battery had been dismissed here today in the case of M. M. Boster, the complaining witness having failed to appear against him when the case came before Justice J. B. Cox late yesterday.

Charge Defendant Sold Leased Tires

Charged with disposing of leased property, consisting of four automobile tires and other accessories, alleged to have belonged to O. B. Davey of El Modena, Jim Dominguez was scheduled to appear before Justice J. B. Cox here, at 2 p. m. today, for preliminary examination. Davey filed the complaint against Dominguez, giving the value of the alleged misappropriated property as $150.

value it only because of its association with one who was near and dear to them and one who was one of our country's heroes."

McKean was training at Gerstner field and was killed when he attempted a landing at Jennings field, fifty miles from Gerstner field.

Overloading of Truck Draws $40 Fine Here

Two fines, totalling $65, were paid to Justice J. B. Cox here today by the Huntington Beach Oil company for two of its truck drivers, J. C. Hickson and C. Sage, who were charged with operating overloaded trucks.

County Motorcycle Officer Louis Heffner arrested the two truckmen on the Los Alamitos boulevard, on the night of July 11. Hickson's truck, it was said, had an over-load of 4,410 pounds, which draws a fine of $40. The over-load on Sage's truck was said to have been 3,150 pounds and the fine was made $25.

Other traffic fines collected by Justice Cox today included B. Brown, speeding, $10; John Hansen, speeding, $10; A. V. Bunker, cutting in, $10, and H. Beck, cutting in, $10.

ACCEPT WATER SYSTEM FOR CO. PARK

Acting upon the recommendation made by County Engineer J. L. McBride, and after a trip of inspection over the ground, the board of supervisors today had accepted the newly-completed water system at the county park. The supervisors and McBride visited the park late yesterday.

Ledbetter and company, Los Angeles contracting firm, improved the park water system. A well was sunk at the upper end of the park with a six-inch pipe line extending to the 200,000-gallon reservoir, situated on a hill overlooking the park. Through this line, which forms both an inlet and outlet to the reservoir, water is pumped by a ten horse-power motor and a triple-plunger pump, having a capacity for pumping eighty gallons a minute.

This gives the park a fifty-pound water pressure, equal to the average city water pressure, it was said. A septic tank was also completed by the same contractors. The reservoir, it was stated, was not included in the present contract.

KIWANIS IN TRAFFIC JAM DISCUSSION

Pointing out that confusion could follow attempts to eliminate hand turns on Fourth street, at Main, at certain hours of certain days, and declaring that the congestion was not sufficient to warrant such regulations at all hours of all days of the week, Austin E. Longcroft, of the legal department of the Automobile Club of Southern California, in an address at today's meeting of the Kiwanis club at St. Ann's Inn, suggested that before attempts were made to adopt such a regulation, the number of cars making such a turn in a given time should be ascertained.

Touching on grade crossings, the speaker said the club was making efforts to prevent the establishment of grade crossings on new railroad construction, particularly where the crossings are on heavy traveled streets or roads.

Gives Tip. He expressed the belief that installation of a banner across Main street directing Santa Ana traffic to go straight ahead would eliminate many left hand turns on Fourth. He pointed out that club signs on the southwest corner of Main and Fourth street are small and that many motorists driving over the route for the first time impede traffic in attempts to read the signs directing to the east.

M. B. Wellington, attorney, declared that the club sign directing San Diego traffic east on Fourth street should be removed and the traffic routed by way of East First street. He expressed the belief that through traffic is of little value to merchants on East Fourth street.

Nat Neff, city councilman, said that more through streets, north and south and east and west, would solve the problem.

Tells Belief. Fred Newcom, merchant, pointed out that much congestion at Fourth and Main streets, particularly on East Fourth street, is caused by motorists not being familiar with the fact that vit safety zones established traffic may move past a Pacific Electric car standing at the northeast corner of the intersection.

Dr. R. A. Cushman expressed his approval of the new motor vehicle law permitting speed in excess of thirty miles an hour on roads where there is little traffic. He said that driving on the city streets should be accelerated between blocks. He declared a man traveling on the hour impedes traffic and is a greater menace to life and limb than a man speeding at fifty miles an hour on an open road.

The program committee was composed of Horace Fine, Earl Fraser and Robert Fernandez.

Express Regret. On motion of Dr. Cushman the secretary was directed to convey by letter to Dr. A. C. Zaiser the club's regret at his sickness and its hope that he recover speedily.

L. E. Crawford, secretary, made an entertaining report of a recent Kiwanis meeting at Pasadena, at which Les Henry, former district governor, outlined some of the big objects of Kiwanis International.

ACCUSE WOMAN OF GOING AS CAR DRAGS MAN

Santa Ana police today were tracing the owner of an automobile, license No. 459-198, which late yesterday, when driven by a woman said to be 60 years old, struck John Doerr, 1135 West Third street, while in front of his home, and dragged him on the bumper for thirty feet.

A severely sprained wrist and scratches were the only injuries sustained by Doerr, local transfer man, who said that he didn't see the car approaching. He considered himself fortunate to have been dragged along by the bumper instead of being run over and probably killed, he said. He was able to walk home.

Doerr was near the crossing, in the middle of the street, when the car, approaching at a fairly slow speed, struck him.

BOYS ARRESTED ON BURGLARY CHARGES

Two Santa Ana high school boys, one aged 17 years, and the other 18, were arrested today charged with a series of burglaries that run back through police and sheriff's office records here for the past three months.

The value of their loot, according to the police, who said the boys confessed, ran into thousands of dollars, and included everything from sporting goods, expensive radio outfits and several automobiles, including a Ford coupe and a Haynes car.

Officers Smithwick and Howell were responsible for the investigations which led to arrest of the boys, according to City Marshal Claude Rogers.

The boys have been charged with the robbery of C. Werner Leo's residence at 1528 Durant street, June 27; theft of the radio outfit from Orange county park; theft of sporting goods from the Santa Ana high school, and numerous other thefts, which were being listed against them today.

Jewelry of considerable value and of many pieces was the haul made at the Leo residence, the records show.

The boys were located at the Western Electric company plant in Los Angeles, where they were working, Rogers said. Their parents live in Santa Ana, he said.

A great amount of the asserted stolen goods was found in the boys' room in Los Angeles, Rogers said. How much they had sold or disposed of, he said, he was unable to ascertain.

DANCE HALL BOOZE CASE STORM CAUSE

"I don't feel like permitting my court to be made the dumping ground for such cases," declared Justice J. B. Cox today, as he assessed a fine of $1 to C. W. Collins, charged by City Marshal J. C. Looney, of Brea, with having possession of liquor.

Collins was said to have been arrested at a dance hall in a northern Orange county town.

"That dance hall seems to be a gathering place for those who want to drink liquor," Justice Cox said. "There's a justice of the peace in that place. I'm tired of having them dump all their cases down here in this court. I'm busy from 6 a. m. until 8 p. m., frequently, and work Saturdays and Sundays to keep up with my own legitimate work. If that place is to be allowed to remain open, let them handle their own mess."

"They said they wanted a record of the case, so they brought it here to see what it got advertised. Well they got the record. The fine will be $1."

DRILLER INJURED BY FORCE OF GAS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 18. Luther Clark, 842 Riverine avenue, Santa Ana, a driller on Selby Route well here, was badly bruised about the body and cut about the legs when the well came in as gasser last evening.

When Clark was thrown from the oil rig by the force of the rushing gas he sustained lacerations at his eyes were temporarily blinded by sand, mud and grease. Today he was very weak and in addition to pain from his injuries, was suffering from severe shock.

Hearing of Mother On Serious Charge Today

G. W. Patterson and Mrs. Esther Farmer, charged with contributing to the delinquency of the woman's two children, one aged 11 and the other 5, were scheduled to receive their preliminary examination at 8 p. m. today, before Justice J. B. Cox here.

Sidney Farmer, father of the children filed the charges against Mrs. Farmer and Patterson, alleging they lived together, openly, with the children.

MORE CARRIERS PLEA SENT TO WASHINGTON

Relief of the Santa Ana post-office again became a paramount issue in business circles here today. Crowded carrier routes, infrequent deliveries and other asserted deficiencies due to lack of sufficient help have hampered daily business operations, it was reported.

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, sent another telegram to the postmaster general's office at Washington, D. C., in which he said:

"Local postal service conditions not keeping pace with city's growth. Many complaints both from business and residence section fully justified. Our investigation indicates immediate need of at least three additional carriers. Under present force carriers make but one trip, frequently incomplete. We earnestly urge adequate improved service."

C. D. Overhimer, postmaster, declared he had sent six communications to the post office department since January 1 in which he reported the conditions of postal service in Santa Ana.

"My last letter to the department was timed to arrive there Monday," he said. "I requested the department to wire me on receipt of my letter. I have received no wire or answer of any description."

"We have needed the three additional carriers for months past. The trouble is, it takes us so long to secure additional carriers that by the time our requisition is filled we are in need of further help. We are growing more rapidly than the department realizes."

TO LAY PLANS FOR VISIT OF HARDING

Plans for President Harding's visit to Orange county and Santa Ana early in August are to be considered at a meeting of a special committee of the Associated Chamber of Commerce at the Anaheim Elks' clubhouse, Saturday noon, it was announced today.

Accuse S. A. Youth When Check Forged

His preliminary examination set for July 17 at 2 p. m., William Swall, 20, of Santa Ana, who was recently fined by Justice J. B. Cox on a liquor charge, today again was awaiting appearance in the same court, the charge this time being forgery.

Swall, meanwhile, is held in the county jail under $1,000 bail. He is accused by the cashier of a local bank, with having forged the name of J. P. Black in endorsing a check for $25, alleged to have been made out to Black by C. E. Showalter. The check was alleged to have been passed at the bank last October 23.

BIG FEATURE AT TEMPLE HAS UNUSUAL ORIGIN

Back in 1908 Frederick Thompson, the creator of Luna Park and builder of the New York Hippodrome, wanted to produce a play. About the same time Porter Emerson Browne, who had written many short stories, was imbued with the idea that he wanted to write a play. Robert Hilliard, actor of many charming roles, particularly "The Stranger" in the Belasco production, "The Girl of the Golden West," just then decided he wanted to appear in a play that was somewhat different.

So the stage was all set for an idea and three brilliant minds, all unknown to each other, were working on it. None of them knew just what they wanted, although they had a vague idea.

Hilliard and Thompson first came in contact, and let each other know their desires concerning a stage production.

"Get me a play that has some punch in it, and I'll star you," said Thompson.

"For instance?" inquired Hilliard.

"Well, I was just reading Kipling's poem, 'The Vampire,' the other night. Something on that line."

Hilliard went away musing, and two days later, when strolling down Broadway, bumped into Porter Emerson Browne.

"I am looking for a play," he told the author.

"Just so," replied Browne. "What kind?"

"A Fool There Was," quoted the actor and passed on.

Three weeks later his doorbell rang, and standing on the welcome mat was Mr. Browne with a manuscript tucked under his arm. It was the first draft of "A Fool There Was."

Thompson kept his word. The play was first produced at the Liberty Theater on Wednesday evening, March 24, 1909. The stage director was George Marion, and Robert Hilliard played the Fool. The vampire was played by Katharine Kaelred.

Dependable Demonstration

In the performance of good health results to men, women and children, afflicted in the aggregate by about every namable disease and disorder it is daily being demonstrated by the Chiropractors that the secret of health lies in the perfection of the spine.

DISEASE establishes itself in any part of the body, when nerves become unable to carry the normal amount of vital energy from the brain. In the greater majority of cases the real cause will be found in mechanical pressure on the nerves as they pass through spaces between the bones of the spinal column.

EVERY CHRONIC DISORDER is the final result of standing conditions of spinal deviations. By examining the spine the CAUSE of any disease, or weakness, or any impairment of health, whatsoever, contained in the common understanding of disease and disorders, can be found, and in most cases can be readily removed by CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS.

Pains about the head, face, eyes, ears, neck, back or limbs, disorders of the brain, lungs, heart, stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels; lowered vitality and sleeplessness are some of the conditions that have in many instances been restored by CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS.

News Briefs

The industrial conference of Orange county Chamber of Commerce executives at luncheon at St. Ann's Inn today was postponed until after vacation season, J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber, announced today.

Two building permits were issued today for $7500, making the total for the month 61 permits for $347,821, and for the year 886 permits for $3,157,053 in new buildings, according to the records of W. S. Decker, building inspector.

According to information reaching here today, Henry Luther, who resides near Anaheim, has $200 he will present to the person who will "sneak" on the person who in June poisoned valuable foxhounds owned by him. The information did not reveal the number of pets that fell victims to the poison.

L. E. Ladd of St. Louis, Mo., told W. H. Seabold, day clerk at the Cooper hotel here, where he was registered today, that he had heard of the new Santa Ana hotel before beginning his trip from Missouri. Ladd contemplates settling in Santa Ana, he said.

The Orange county farm bureau poultry department will hold a meeting here tomorrow night for consideration of the department's fall program.

The Rev. Thomas Vance, who was seriously injured in a railroad accident near Albuquerque, N. M., July 4, and who has been in a hospital there, had today been removed to his home, 420 West First street. Returning with him was his daughter, Dr. Mahle Vance Tremaine, who went to Albuquerque upon receiving word of her father's serious condition. He is reported greatly improved.

Definite word was received today by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, that the plant industry department of the U. S. Department of Agriculture had established headquarters in Santa Ana as the geographic center of sweet potato disease investigations to be carried on in Southern California this season.

W. B. Hooper, walnut specialist, was in the county today in behalf of certain codling moth activities at San Juan Capistrano, Anaheim and Irvine. Hugh Knight, assistant entomologist at the Riverside experiment station, and H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor, accompanied the walnut expert.

The program of the walnut field day to be held at Ventura, August 18, was to be considered at a meeting here late today of the executive committee of the Orange county farm bureau walnut department. The committee also was to discuss the fall program of the department.

Mrs. G. P. Campbell, 833 South Parton street, seeks the return of a fur neck piece, which she lost, probably near her home, July 1. Mrs. Campbell's advertisements have not been answered and she hopes that whoever found the fur, and perhaps did not see her ad, will see this and advise her by phone at 672 M or return it.

H. J. Banta, Los Angeles, president of the H. J. Banta company, will address the adjourned annual meeting of the Orange County Automobile Trades association to be held at the garage of the W. J. Wickersheim company, Fullerton, George Dunton, president, announced today. Banta is a well-known speaker and members are expected to be present in large numbers.

The Laguna Beach Short Line Automobile Stage company has filed with the railroad commission an application for authority to establish service for the transportation of passengers, freight and baggage between Balboa and Serra. It was learned here today. The names of those sponsoring the company were not made public. It was not revealed whether the company proposed establishment of the service at once or would await the completion of coast boulevard to Serra. J. L. McBride, superintendent of county highways, said that the coast road between the two points was passable, but in very bad condition.

240 Immigrants at S. F. Halted by Law

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—Angel Island immigration authorities are seeking to interpret the new immigration quota law as liberally as possible to admit, if possible, 240 Austrians, New Zealanders and Russians recently arrived on the liners Ventura, Tahiti and Sinto Mars to find the July immigration allowances for their countries exhausted.

Hold Contractor To Face Check Charge

John Higone, cement and pipe line contractor of La Habra, today was ordered by Justice J. B. Cox to appear August 14, at 10 a. m., for preliminary examination on a charge of issuing a worthless check. Meantime Higone is at liberty on his own recognizance.

Complaint against the contractor was filed by A. Antonio of Anaheim, cashier of a bank at Santa Fe Springs. A check for $75.60 was alleged to have been issued to Joe Presiado, employed by Higone as a ditch digger.

Higone today attempted, in broken English, to explain to Justice Cox that the affair was the result of a misunderstanding, but, due to

Beach Chamber and City Officials to Boost "Home Town"

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 18.—The city officials of this place and the members of the Huntington Beach chamber of commerce had an old fashioned "love feast" last night for the purpose of getting better acquainted and bringing about more co-operation between the two bodies for the betterment of Huntington Beach.

The meeting was presided over by Charles Patton, president of the chamber. Pledges of everlasting good will and friendship were made for both "sides".

No business was transacted. A general business meeting of the chamber will be held next Monday evening when tellers will be named to count the ballots for nomination of officers for the chamber. A reorganization has just been effected, carrying with it the resignations of all the old officers.

Reveal Confession of Accused Firebug, Brought to Jail Here

Fortunado Valencia Padilla of El Paso, Tex., alleged to have signed a written statement admitting authorship of twelve fires in Anaheim, Fullerton, Riverside, Colton and San Bernardino, was today awaiting trial in the superior court here on a charge of arson. Padilla was held to answer at a preliminary hearing conducted yesterday before Justice William French, at Fullerton.

The Mexican's asserted confession, said to have been made in the presence of four officers, is now in the hands of District Attorney A. P. Nelson's office. Padilla is held in the Orange county jail here, having been brought back today from a trip to San Bernardino and Riverside, where officers took him to revisit scenes of recent fires.

How he started the various fires "just to make a little excitement," was described in the written statement, said to have been signed by the Mexican. The statement purports to cover his activities in Southern California between June 29 and July 17, on which latter date Padilla was arrested by the Fullerton police, following a series of six fires there in one day.

Aids Firemen.

Late in June, the statement sets forth, Padilla was in Colton and attempted to set fire to a cannery, but failed. Next day, according to the statement, he fired large piles of lumber in San Bernardino. Then he spent several days in Colton and Riverside before, the statement alleges, starting a fire at night in the Union Oil company's warehouse, at Riverside. After sunrise, the statement continues, Padilla fired the Superior Honey company's plant, and remained on the scene to assist the firemen in fighting the flames. Padilla is said to deny any connection with the blaze that consumed the Casa Blanca school, near Riverside.

Several days after the Riverside fires, Padilla "found himself" in Anaheim, according to the statement, looking for an uncle that once resided there.

Two packing house fires marked his visit to the Mother colony, the statement admits. These were understood to be the fires discovered and extinguished with slight damage, just before Padilla's arrest at Fullerton.

Lights Gas Jets.

The afternoon following the Anaheim fires, the statement sets forth, Padilla fired five Fullerton buildings, one of them twice. The

SOCIETY

School Girl Group Has Happy Afternoon

A thoroughly happy afternoon resulted for a group of school girls who yesterday responded to the invitation of Thelma Glasscock of 816 West Third street for a merry party.

The young hostess had arranged a musical program to entertain her guests who listened to violin selections by Georgia Bell Walton with her sister Marjorie Walton at the piano, and piano numbers by the Misses Elizabeth Lenhardt, Marjorie Walton, Minnie Wilde and the hostess herself.

Lively games were then introduced and occupied the time until all were bidden to the dining room where places were found at the flower-laden table by means of dainty pink cards. Nut cups to harmonize were used and the ice cream and cake also offered the same pretty color harmony.

Refreshments were served by the mother of the hostess, Mrs. J. D. Glasscock, and Miss Minnie Wilde, and the young guests enjoying the happy afternoon were the Misses Maxine Overton, Mary Blakeman, Naomi West, Lucille Harrison, Georgia Bell Walton, Marjorie Walton, Minerva Carpenter, Bethel Wilkenson, Elizabeth Lenhardt and Katharine Smallwood.

Social Calendar

July 19—Meeting of Busy Bee club with Mrs. W. C. Jerome, 712 East Third street; 2 p. m.

July 19—Daughters of Veterans, all day picnic at Laguna, home of Mrs. Marie Thurston, pot-luck lunch.

July 20—All day meeting of Women's Benefit association with Mrs. Fred Towner at Newport Beach. Members to leave on the Crown stage at 9 a. m.

July 20—Stated session of Fraternal Aid union at M. W. A. hall; 8 p. m.

July 25-26—Carnival on St. Joseph's school grounds, Lacy and Stafford, Duffey supper, 5:30 to 8, under auspices of Young Ladies' Sodality.

Benefit Association

The fact that Mrs. Fred Towner is enjoying vacation days at Newport will offer a happy outing to members of the Woman's Benefit association of the Macabees who will enjoy her hospitality all day Friday, July 20.

Meeting at the Crown stage office, the members will take the 9 o'clock bus for Newport Friday morning, each one outfitted with the needed table service for the enjoyment of the dinner arranged for by a hostess committee composed of Mrs. Towner, Mrs. Mattie Peters and Mrs. Docia Jasper. All visiting members are extended a cordial invitation to join the merry-makers for the day.

Daughters of Veterans

Many affairs of interest promise a busy month for the Santa Ana tent, Daughters of Veterans who today were to join the Long Beach tent in a picnic at Birch park, upon the invitation of the latter tent.

Again tomorrow will the members seek the seashore for Mrs. Thurston has invited them to hold their pot-luck dinner with her at her Laguna Beach cottage. Each one will take a prepared dish also the necessary table service for her own use and all will meet at 9 a. m. for the picnic tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock to make the start.

At the latest meeting of the tent, notice was given of Daughters' day at the Monroe Centennial on July 28 and plans were made for as many as possible to attend. In August the local tent will ask the Fullerton, Long Beach and Huntington Beach tents to join in a pot-luck dinner at Birch park and the date of August 11 was chosen that being the twentieth anniversary of the hostess tent.

'HI-TONED' FOOD DUE IN CAMP SHAW TODAY

Everything from olives to can-openers were on the menu today at Camp Shaw, Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Catalina, when the "hi-toned" eats from home were unpacked.

Frank Canon, post office employee here, who weighed more than two dozen packages, all scheduled to arrive at Camp Shaw today, will vouch for this.

"Those youngsters are going to have some feed," Canon remarked. He gained his information from two dozen parents who came to his window with boxes of fruit, candy, cake and all the other "real stuff" from home.

"A can of beans, a can of tuna and a can-opener," was the request made one youngster, it was learned.

Olives in Demand.

"I don't care what you send, but be sure and put in plenty of olives," another boy wrote.

When the camp correspondent recovers from the effects of the "hi-toned eats" he will probably have much to say about them.

Here is his story of the "all out of camp day," on which no one is allowed to remain in camp on that day:

"There were three hikes for that day. One across the island, in charge of Bob Lenhardt and Harry Ispon and others; one to the top of Black Jack, (highest point on the island), in charge of 'Hickey' Coleman, and one to Smuggler's cave, with Archie Raitt and 'Doc' in charge."

Awards Are Given.

"Several of the fellows were recommended for rags last night." The correspondent explained that the "rag" was the award given a boy for all-around fitness and good sportsmanship. It is coveted by every boy in camp and awarded to only a few.

"Fishing is not the least exciting sport at camp," it was added. "A six pound sheephead was landed one day, as well as other large fish."

"On the road to Black Jack we saw several goats."

Tomorrow is Visitors' day in camp, and several parents here are planning to make the trip, it was learned.

SCHEDULE OHIO PICNIC FOR JULY 26

"Speaking of the Ohio picnic," rustled a live oak tree at Orange county park, "have you heard this one? What is the shape of Ohio?"

"That's easy," sighed a sycamore tree. "It's round at both ends and high in the middle. But when is a buckeye not a buckeye? Nobody knows but me—it's when he becomes an Orange county nut!" The trees all tossed their branches as they continued to gossip about a pleasant picnic event of the season, the Orange county-Ohio picnic, to be held at the park the afternoon and evening of July 26.

And all the live oaks and sycamores of the park are bent on showing former Ohioans that they can be almost as beautiful as the buckeye trees, which share a nickname of that state, to which the nation turns at intervals for Presidential timber.

Organization Effected

An Ohio society for the county was first suggested at a get-together dinner at James' confectionery a few weeks ago. This was followed by a dinner at St. Ann's Inn, attended by nearly thirty Buckeyes. At the latter affair, the picnic plans were launched. They seemed to have been met with enthusiastic approval from all loyal Ohioans.

Officers of the new organization include H. J. Forgy, president; Guy J. Gilbert, treasurer; Mrs. Robert R. Shafer, secretary; Eleanor Young Elliott, publicity chairman, and Frank L. Burns, general manager of all departments.

In carrying out their plans for bringing to picnic to the attention of the entire county, an elaborate publicity campaign was mapped out. George H. Platt arranged to give decoration to all automobiles of the county by attaching a neat banner mentioning the picnic.

Dancing Featured

The element of mystery has entered into entertainment plans, for Bob Gram, head of that committee, refuses to divulge his ideas for the evening's amusement, which will follow the basket dinner and precede the dancing.

Of course there will be dancing. No one could imagine a group of Buckeyes without that feature. Arrangements for a suitable orchestra were to be made by Mrs. Eugene Robinson, formerly of Toledo.

It was emphasized that those who have resided in Ohio, as well as those born in the state, are eligible to attend the picnic.

Would Probate Will In Estate of $10,000

The petition of Mary L. Balderston to probate the will of the late George Balderston, who died June 25 in this city, was on file today in the superior court here. An estate valued at $10,000 and consisting of stocks, bonds and securities, was left by the deceased. Among the heirs-at-law are an aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Fairbanks, of New York City, and a cousin, May Fell Fairbanks, of Camp Custer, Mich.

STEWED GEESSE

LONDON, July 18.—A flock of geese on a farmhouse near Vevey, recently drank copiously of some cordial. They immediately started a riot. The farmer, fearing they were poisoned, plucked their feathers, which he hoped to sell, and then threw the fowl in a barnhouse. The next morning he was surprised to see the geese come sheepishly out of the barn, still a bit wobbly, but otherwise no different than a human being on the morning after.

ATTACKED BY LION

NAIROBI, Kenya Colony, July 18.—A British railway engineer, named Fane, engaged on the construction of the new Uasin-Gishu line, was returning to the construction camp when he walked into a lair of lions with two cubs. Before he could fire the lions leaped on him and severely mauled him. Then the beast fled.

Young Violinist Wins Scholarship in Juilliard Foundation

Following close on the heels of her appearance before the National Federation of Music clubs assembled in convention at Asheville, North Carolina, was the announcement that Miss Emma Hardy, youthful violinist of this city and Balboa, would remain in New York City for a course in instruction won as a scholarship in the famous Juilliard Foundation.

Miss Hardy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hardy of Balboa, has been noted for her unusual talent as a violinist and was winner of the violin event in the state musical contest for amateurs thus gaining the hearing before the national federation convention.

While unsuccessful in the final event, her playing won her the interest of musicians assembled at Asheville with the result, that one acquaintance directed her to the Juilliard Foundation.

Soon after her arrival in New York to visit her sister, Miss Sophie Hardy of the Brooklyn Charities Bureau, Miss Hardy was given an appointment and sent to Edward Grasse, blind violinist and considered one of the finest critics in the country. His verdict was so favorable that a scholarship was granted her and beginning with September she will receive eight months' instruction from the great Grasse himself.

Miss Hardy's experience in playing before the master was a unique one. Although totally blind, he was able to tell the position of her wrist, her fingering and bowing in the most minute detail.

During her visit with her sister in New York, the local girl has had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. J. H. Machander and Miss Nelda Machander of this city and the little party of Santa Anas have had many pleasant trips over New York.

Personals

During the absence of Miss Lella Ritzer on her Alaskan trip, Mrs. K. A. Ritzer, 320 West Washington street, was a guest of friends in Los Angeles and Whittier, and is on again at their home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cloyes of 626 South Van Ness street, are enjoying a pleasant visit from Mrs. Orla Severance and little daughter, Betty Ann, who recently arrived from their Kansas City home to spend the summer with Mrs. Severance's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Long Beach.

Motoring down from Modesto, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Dawes are guests of their mother, Mrs. F. L. Dawes, 821 French street, and renewing friendships formed during their residence here some eighteen years ago.

Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Raugh, 731 South Birch street, took their departure Monday for a two weeks' camping trip along the Pacific coast which will take them as far north as Eureka.

Miss Regina Shelton and her friend, Miss Mary Stanford of San Francisco, were pleasant guests yesterday of Mrs. E. Caldwell, 628 North Parton street. Miss Shelton will be remembered as the daughter of George Shelton, well-known linotype operator on the Blade a number of years ago.

After a two years' stay in Canada, Miss Amy E. Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Larson, 814 North Van Ness street, has returned to her home. During her extended absence she visited relatives in Calgary, Alberta; Fernie, B. C.; Banff, Vancouver and Portland, Ore.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Taylor, 820 Riverine street, are entertaining as their house-guest, Mrs. Mary Redd, a former Missouri friend who is in California visiting her sons at Taft and Los Angeles. Mrs. Redd will remain in Santa Ana for about two weeks. Other guests in the Taylor home today were Mrs. Cassie Wethered of Anaheim and her sister from Downey.

Following their return from Los Angeles where they were guests at a pleasant birthday dinner honoring Raymond Kane of that city, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Olivari have as house-guests at their pleasant home, 306 Orange avenue, their daughter, Mrs. Virgil Fisher and Miss Alice Barnhart of Los Angeles, who will remain for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Canon are leaving for their vacation at Forest home.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Baird and children will spend their vacation in San Francisco.

Charming Easterner Offers Motif for Artistic Tea

Complimentary to Miss Miriam Thomas, charming eastern girl who is the house-guest of her uncle, Dr. J. D. Thomas at Passmore ranch, Olive, was an artistically arranged bridge tea with which Miss Estelle Nison yesterday entertained a congenial guest group.

The Nison home at 2500 North Main street, offered a cool retreat to the guests who found half a dozen bridge tables arranged in the airy rooms where garden flowers offered a pleasingly decorative touch of the outdoors.

At the close of the afternoon's playing Miss Nison gave delightful prizes to Mrs. Herbert Miller, holder of high score and Mrs. G. Kenneth Scovel, scoring second, while an equally attractive gift was presented the honoree, Miss Thomas.

Tables were then arranged with dainty linens and centered with low crystal bowls of waxen begonia blossoms for the delectable tea menu in the serving of which Miss Nison was assisted by her mother, Mrs. M. Nison, Mrs. Clarence Nison, Miss Isabel Anderson and Mrs. Harry Matthews.

Miss Thomas, a Franklin, Pennsylvania girl, will remain for an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas.

Motorists Plan Happy Vacation Outing

The arrival of Tuesday, July 24, will be welcomed by a quartette of happy vacationists, Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Watkins and Mr. and Mrs. Otto R. Haan, who plan to leave on that date for a long-anticipated motor camping trip.

With their big Cadillac touring car and a trailer fitted up with beds, camping equipment, an ice storage department and every luxury the present day camper can imagine, the party will depart for Bishop and Mono Lake in the high Sierras where the members will linger for a week's fishing. Carson City, Nevada, will be the next objective and then Lake Tahoe will offer its lure for a few days.

Following the American river canyon to Sacramento the motorists will go on to Crater lake and by way of Portland, Oregon, to the Canadian woods, where they will enjoy the wilds preliminary to visits in Victoria, B. C., Portland, Dureka and then by easy stages marked by fishing and hunting, to San Francisco and the coast route home which they expect to reach shortly after September 1.

Tennessee Guests Will Spend Summer

Among interesting summer visitors in the city are Miss Mary Morrison and Miss Sallie Rader of Memphis, Tennessee, who have arrived to be the guests of Mrs. C. O. Neff, 1061 West Third street.

Miss Morrison is teacher of mathematics in Central High school of her home city while Miss Rader is a prominent musician who devotes the greater part of her time to Junior Christian Endeavor work.

During their summer's stay it is the intention of their hosts to give them an excellent first-hand knowledge of the charms of Southern California.

Farewell Dinner for Northern Travelers At Aksarben Ranch

Aksarben ranch, which radiates hospitality as a candle radiates beams, was the scene of a delightfully intimate little dinner last night when Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh entertained for Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer, Miss Adelaide Spencer and Miss Virginia Slabaugh, soon to leave for an ocean trip north.

The Aksarben gardens yielded masses of velvety dahlias in colors ranging from delicate lavender, mauve, pink, and yellow to deep crimson, for decorations of the charming rooms while pink carnations centered the dinner table.

As originally planned, the party was to include in addition to the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Slabaugh and their daughters the Misses Virginia and Helen Slabaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, Miss Adelaide Spencer and the Messrs. Lester Schroeder and Loren Cannon, but the arrival of Mr. C. H. Nelson of Redlands for a little surprise visit with Dr. Slabaugh, added another delightful member to the group.

Following the enjoyment of the dinner, the evening was devoted to chat while the travelers mapped out the itinerary of their contemplated trip. Sailing from Los Angeles harbor Friday on the H. F. Alexander, the quartette will stop in San Francisco for a short visit ere continuing north to Seattle.

Neighbors of Woodcraft

Following a very interesting business session when Mrs. Lizzie Hendricks was admitted to membership, the Neighbors of Woodcraft enjoyed a social evening Monday at M. W. A. hall.

Twenty members participated in the "grab bag" and thereby added to the circle's treasury. A "Motor Love Story" offered a lively hour as a contest in which Miss Lillian Penrose, Miss Florence Hendricks and Mrs. Penrose were prize winners. Master Lester Erickson then entertained with a monologue after which home made cake and fruitade were enjoyed.

The club colors of green, red and white were used to adorn the hall. Decision was reached to invite the Golden State circle of Los Angeles to meet with the local circle August 6 to initiate candidates. Those gathered at Monday night's session included Mr. and Mrs. Penrose and the Misses Lillian and Margaret Penrose of Greeley, Colo. Mrs. Maggie Erickson, Miss Florence Erickson, Lester Erickson, Mrs. Lizzie Hendricks, Miss Helen Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Roy House, Wallace Storm, Charles Barnum, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Gipson, Mrs. Mary Kaneen, Mrs. Annie Westlake, Mrs. Nan Winn.

Birthday Celebration Keenly Enjoyed by Grandchildren

Annual return of the natal day of W. H. Zimmerman of 210 West First street on July 17, brought with it again this year, the celebration with which the grandchildren of the honoree delight in recognizing the day.

For last night grandchildren and great-grandchildren to the number of nearly a score, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman there to enjoy a happy evening and offer their wishes for many more like celebrations.

"Grandpa" Zimmerman, as he is affectionately known, has been a Californian for eighteen years, all of which have been spent in this city. Originally from Illinois, he engaged in farming and carpentering ere his retirement from active life. Yesterday was his eighty-seventh birthday and his splendid faculties are the pride of his descendants who recognize the fact that seldom do those so nearly qualifying as nonagenarians, retain their faculties so successfully.

A happy evening of reminiscences and chat was followed by the serving of ice cream by the host and hostess accompanied by delectable home made cakes which the grand-daughters had taken pleasure in preparing.

Those gathering for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Sanford, Miss Charlotte Zimmerman, Miss Ruth Zimmerman, Ernest Zimmerman, Mrs. Minnie Zimmerman, Mrs. Louella Zimmerman and half a dozen young great-grandchildren, while Mrs. Blee and Mr. and Mrs. Merch were friends who joined in the evening's pleasure.

In addition to relatives in this city, Mr. Zimmerman has a son, A. W. Zimmerman, former president of the Orange county bank, also a daughter, four grand children and several great-grandchildren residing in Arkansas.

Fraternal Aid Union

Stated session of the Fraternal Aid union will be held at M. W. A. hall Friday night beginning at 8 o'clock.

Church Young People Have Merry Time at Conference Dinner

The basement of the First Christian church was the scene of a jolly social gathering last night, when seventy young people from the intermediate and senior Christian Endeavor societies, met to hear reports from the Christian Endeavor conference, recently held at the Christian college in Los Angeles. Eight Santa Ana girls attended the Los Angeles conference, with expenses paid by the Ladies' Aid society of the First Christian church.

With Miss Blanche Cartmill as toastmistress, the interested young people of the church opened their program with a banquet, prepared under the management of Mrs. T. D. Knights. French bouquets decorated the tables. Songs, yells and stunts of the conference were demonstrated in great variety during the banquet.

As the program proceeded there were talks by several of the girls, covering the less serious features of the conference. Miss Beulah Cable discussed the "fun period" of the convention. The "fun period," she said, came just preceding bed time, and was the source of much enjoyment.

Miss Helen Dallas told of the celebration in the college of the wedding anniversary of one of the teachers. The demonstration, she said, temporarily halted the conference. Miss Lorene Porter described many of the side trips, which were both pleasant and educational, in the estimation of the girls in the conference.

Miss Veda Mitchell's part in the program was a talk regarding the college celebration of the Fourth of July. Miss Eva Taylor gave an interesting account of the more practical and serious points of the convention. Miss Marion Gerrard discussed several important features of the conference and urged the young people to attend a convention of Christian churches to be held in Long Beach next month.

The Rev. F. T. Porter was also on the program with a brief address, in which he congratulated the young people of his church, upon the energy with which they entered into the various activities of the church societies.

WOMAN'S $2400 RUM FINE IS SUSPENDED

Mrs. Kate Measor, resident of Delhi and, prior to 1917, in the limelight as an asserted illegal dispenser of "wet goods," today was free of fines totalling $2400, imposed in 1917, following conviction on four counts charging illegal sale of whiskey.

Under instruction of the board of supervisors, District Attorney A. P. Nelson yesterday entered notice with the county clerk that the judgment had been satisfied. The supervisors suspended the fines.

At the time of conviction, Mrs. Measor was sentenced to six months in the county jail and fine of $600 on each count. She served the jail sentences, but did not pay the fines.

Attorney H. C. Head, representing Mrs. Measor, yesterday appeared before the supervisors and suggested that the board declare the judgment satisfied, inasmuch as the convicted woman had served a total of more than two years in jail.

Nelson pointed out today that the fine constituted a civil claim and that the supervisors had authority either to suspend or compromise. He said the board took the position that the end of justice had been met by the jail term. It was understood the decision of the board to suspend the fines was influenced by Mrs. Measor's asserted non-attempt to re-engage in illicit liquor traffic.

Hears Shots; Leaves Bed; Police Arrive; Find 'Gun'; Exit All

This is a story of sharp, piercing noises at night.

Thinking he heard pistol shots in the wee small hours of this morning, C. D. Murphy, owner of a taxi service here, was aroused from his slumbers at his home, 613 West Third street.

His inclination was to tuck his head under the blankets, but his sense of duty and consideration of public welfare steered him to brave the chilly air in order to notify the police.

Officers Elliott and Hurd responded.

SHOTS RIDDLE HOME OF TRIAL WITNESS

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 18.—The home of W. R. Gray, star witness for the state in the murder trial of William Blizard, mine union official, now in progress at Lewisburg, was the target for a volley of revolver shots from a band of unidentified gunmen who escaped in an automobile.

Gray was sitting near a window. He was not hit.

Gray has given valuable testimony for the state, which is at tempting to prove Blizard participated in the Logan county miner's insurrection two years ago and was responsible during the fighting for the death of a deputy sheriff.

SEES AID FROM PAN-AMERICAN CONFERENCE

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Dr. L. S. Rowe, director general of the Pan-American union, and one of the delegates from the United States to the fifth Pan-American conference recently held at Santiago, Chile, believes that the work of the conference is bound to strengthen the spirit of co-operation among the American republics, and that Pan-Americanism has taken a forward step, he said in a statement here today.

"The first international conference of American states, usually referred to as the fifth Pan-American conference, marks an important step in the development of Pan-Americanism, especially in the co-operative action of the republics of the American continent in furthering their mutual, cultural and commercial interests. The conference adopted a series of treaties, conventions, and resolutions, all calculated to strengthen the spirit of co-operation among the republics of the American continent."

"In the political field the conference made considerable additions to the functions of the Pan-American Union, increasing its power to render positive service to all the states of this continent. In the matter of the settlement of disputes arising between nations of America, a treaty was adopted providing for a system of conciliation, which means important progress in the settlement of such disputes."

"In the commercial field, the conference made important progress in the protection of trademarks, literary and artistic property, in the improvement of means of transportation, and in all matters relating to closer communication and interchange between the peoples of this continent."

"In the cultural field, the conference reached definite and practical conclusions designed to bring about closer co-operation between universities, scientific associations and individual investigators. Such co-operation cannot help but be productive of fruitful results, in bringing the nations of America into closer touch with one another."

"It is true that in the question of the limitation of armaments, the conference reached no final conclusions; but it must be remembered that this question, in reality, involved but two of the eighteen countries represented, Argentina and Brazil. The Central American republics had settled the question through the signing of a convention at Washington last February, and as regards naval armament, the United States had agreed to a limitation in the Washington treaties."

"The other countries represented at the conference, with the exception of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, have already reduced their expenditures for these purposes to a minimum."

"At the conference, Chile was prepared to agree to any conclusions reached between Argentina and Brazil, and as a matter of fact, these are the only two countries, relative to which there is the slightest danger of competitive armament. Brazil took the position that the great extension of her coast and her large territorial area made it necessary for her to carry out a naval and military program which had been formulated as early as 1906, and which is in process of fulfillment."

"Unfortunately, there has been a tendency to interpret the work of the conference exclusively with reference to the armament question, whereas, as a matter of fact, this question was in reality discussed between but two of the countries, the other sixteen countries remaining attentive spectators whose interests were not directly involved in the question."

FRIENDS GATHER TO HONOR WOMAN

BIBLE MEET TO LURE THROG OF S. A. MEN

Prepared to take an active part in the quarterly convention of the Federation of Men's Bible Classes of Southern California, at Pomona, fully 100 members of the Santa Ana Men's Community Bible class will leave Santa Ana tomorrow at 5:30 p. m., and arrive in Pomona in time for dinner at 7 p. m.

"The quarterly convention will open at Ganesha park at 3 p. m." said A. W. Gerrard, "with a brief business session preceding the dinner. There will be about 1000 guests, including representatives of Bible classes from virtually every section of Southern California. W. B. Martin, of this city, who is president of the federation, will preside."

"In addition there will be addresses by three Orange county men who have been active in Bible class work. R. R. Miller of Santa Ana will discuss "What Is a Man's Bible Class?" "Every Day Service of a Men's Bible Class," will be the topic of the Rev. Percy Clarkson of Orange. "Class Publicity" has been assigned to Harry F. Dierker of Fullerton."

According to those in charge of arrangements, ample automobile facilities have been provided for all those who hold tickets for the dinner at Pomona. Cars will leave the First Christian church here at promptly 5:30 p. m.

LEGION POSTS LAUNCH DRIVE FOR MEMBERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 18.—"The recent visit of National Adjutant Lemuel Bolles has stimulated the state-wide membership campaign," according to California Legion headquarters commandant.

"The posts are rushing to get in their membership prior to the opening of the state convention because the department adjutant's books will close July 27, thirty days prior to the convention. The basis on which the posts are represented depends upon the number of paid up members. It is therefore of vital interest to each individual member and each post to secure as many members as possible for their organization, before the termination of the drive."

"Gilroy Post won the commander's cup with an increase of 500 per cent over last year's total membership. Dinuba Post has already gone over its 100 and has many more members than the number that went into the service from that city. Only 252 men entered the service, while there are now 275 paid up members. The Arthur L. Petersen Post No. 27, Long Beach, has virtually doubled its membership over last year."

"The total number of members brought in to the department since the opening of the intensive membership drive is more than 2,000."

PREDICT BANNER YEAR

County Valencia Crop Due to Set Record in 1924,
Is Early Forecast

The Orange county Valencia crop promises to be larger for the coming year than ever before, J. McInnes of Orange predicted today. The mark set for 1924 is a source of wonder to many growers, he asserted.

"With favorable weather conditions Orange county should market a bumper crop, although it is much too early for an accurate estimate," McInnes said.

"We do not have many navel oranges in this district, but what we have are carrying a tremendous load."

"Packing houses are steadily packing, and growers are realizing satisfactory returns."

"Saturday, Charles D. Boydston was given a check for $11,945.33 for part of the fruit on his ranch on Prospect avenue."

"The Stroup-Barnes company of Anaheim was paid $3085.60 for the fruit on its six-acre-ranch at Garden Grove, the same day."

"Others being picked."

"Picking of both groves was finished Friday."

"To be picked in the near future are the groves of S. G. Lehmer, Katella road; H. M. Peterson, Katella road; William Jackson, Magnolia avenue; A. J. Hunter, Fullerton; Mrs. Mary Tombs, Placentia; the Eager ranch, East Center street, Anaheim; T. W. Johnston, Red Hill; Mrs. A. J. Turner, Garden Grove; J. H. Stinson, Orange, and others."

Fullerton and Placentia packing houses shipped 129 carloads of Valencia and four cars of lemons last week, according to figures available here today. This aggregate is close to the high peak reached two weeks ago, when shipments amounted to 135 carloads of oranges.

Too Much Borax In Fertilizer Has Detrimental Effect

Exhaustive experimental work by the United States department of agriculture has proved that borax is detrimental to plant growth when applied in quantities varying from 4 to 20 pounds to the acre, and larger quantities produced progressively greater injury. Investigations were made in 1919 as a result of appeals from farmers and fertilizer dealers in many sections of the eastern states which indicated that important crops to which a certain fertilizer had been applied were very seriously affected.

The trouble was traced to the use of potash salt containing borax which came from Searles Lake, California. In these tests Searles Lake potash free from borax gave good results, and compared very favorably with potash materials from other sources.

Results are published in department bulletin 1126. The effect of borax on the growth and yield of crops, show further that borax in fertilizers is injurious to a number of different crops, but the extent of the injury varied with the different types of soil and climatic conditions.

SEES GOOD DEMAND FOR BEANS IN EAST

Although production of beans will be materially reduced, especially in Orange county, indications are that sales and prices will be highly satisfactory, according to S. N. Greding, traveling representative of the California Lima Bean Growers' association, who was a visitor here today.

"I find," said Greding, who travels throughout the United States in the interest of the association, "that Eastern buyers, from long experience, have come to have the utmost faith in the California association. In addition, I have been signing up a number of new members for the association. Indications are that next year will see an even greater number in the parent organization."

Business conditions in the East, while undergoing some changes, have improved in the past few months and fall trade will be quite satisfactory, Greding declared. While here, Greding visited several of the largest bean ranches in Orange county, including the Irvine and Jerome properties.

WHITE LEGHORN
IN CONTEST

Pomona Egg-Laying Competition Results Told by Bureau Man

With a total production of 65.07 per cent for the month of June, white leghorns captured all the highest places in the farm bureau egg-laying contest at Pomona, according to advices received here today by W. M. Cory, assistant farm advisor. Broodiness, it was explained, lowered the production records of the heavy birds very considerably.

Blackman and Mumford's bird No. 292 won first prize for individual production, with 29 eggs. E. E. Eisenberg's bird No. 505, and George C. England's bird, No. 624 took second and third prizes, respectively, with 27 eggs each.

According to Cory, the light birds consumed on an average 3.09 pounds of grain, 3.44 pounds of mash, 2.33 pounds of green feed, and gave a production of 66.7 per cent. The heavy birds consumed 3.09 pounds of grain, 3.57 pounds of mash, 2.01 pounds of green feed, and gave a production of 56.77 per cent.

One change in the order of the experiment pens for production occurred during the eighth month, Cory said. The hens in Pen No. 3, which are fed semi-solid buttermilk, are now leading those in Pen No. 2, which are fed re-made dried skim milk.

The entry of E. E. Rogers won first prize, with an average production of 22.69 eggs per bird. California Leghorn Breeders' entry No. 21 won third prize.

Egg production in six of the pens was above fifty per cent for the month while that in three others, the two sprouted barley pens and the no green feed pen, was below twenty-six per cent. The production in the malted buttermilk pen was just above forty-eight per cent. Very little moult has yet appeared in any of the pens and only a few hens have been broody.

The hens in the experiment pens were mated during the latter part of January and during the four months following five lots of eggs from all pens were incubated. Two cockerels were put with each pen of forty hens and moved from pen to pen every week.

The eggs were set just as they ran as taken from the different pens and eggs from all pens were set together in the same incubators.

STATE'S CROP STATUS BARED
BY EXPERT

Condition of Products of Farms Shows Improvement, Is Declared

California crops show a general improvement in condition on July 1, as compared with June 1, according to reports compiled by E. E. Kaufman, agricultural statistician, and received here today by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

The acreage planted to rice, beans, potatoes and sweet potatoes decreased in comparison with last year, while there is an increase in the area planted to corn.

Unseasonably low temperatures prevailed throughout the state from June 1 to 26, which were accepted as generally favorable to fruit crops and to all field crops, with the exception of rice, bean, corn and grain sorghum.

Rainfall varies. Rainfall occurred in the northern part of the state from June 21 to 23, varying from a trace, in the valley of California, to more than one inch in the extreme northern part of the state.

Where range grass had matured naturally, some damage resulted from the rainfall, but, in general, pastures were benefited to some extent.

Preliminary estimates of the acreage of Indian corn in California show an increase of 10 per cent above last year, which indicates a total planting of 128,000 acres. The crop condition is 91 per cent of normal, which is the same as that of a year ago, and compares with the ten-year average of 89. Upon this basis the production for this season is forecast at 4,542,720 bushels.

Corn Acreage Slumps. In the United States the area planted to corn is estimated at 103,112,000 acres, which is 684,000 acres more than in 1922. The production forecast indicates a crop of 2,877,437,000 bushels, which is 13,275,000 bushels less than 1922.

Prospects for a lemon crop continue to be as favorable as reported on June 1, when the condition was estimated to be 88 per cent of normal. This compares with 56 per cent at this date last year, and a ten-year average of 80.

Little change is reported in the condition of the orange crop. The crop is 93 per cent of normal.

CALIFORNIA PEARS
"LOOK UP" IN EAST

Prices for California pears are showing a depression at the present time, but offerings for peaches and pears are good, especially in the mid-Western markets. This is according to a report of present market conditions by J. L. Naegele, manager of the California Fruit exchange, and received by the Orange county farm bureau, here, today.

California peaches this week brought as high as $2.75 a box in Chicago, as against 65 cents in New York. Georgia peaches are showing brown rot and are not competing with Western fruit. The peak of the pear movement will be reached this week.

Public "Guessing and Paying"

The Wellworth national advertising that appears in the Saturday Evening Post of June 23 and in the Literary Digest of June 30 told the vast reading public reached by these periodicals to stop "guessing and paying" and urge them to "stop short-weighting themselves." To quote the advertisement:

"Thousands of pairs of untrue and inaccurate scales were clattering into the scrap heap last year."

"Good work!" you may say, "if I wouldn't try to guess how heavy a pound is, and I won't let him guess either—not when I'm paying."

"But if it weren't for the standards established by the Bureau of Standards and the regular inspection of scales and measures, you would go right on guessing—and paying without knowing whether you were cheated or not."

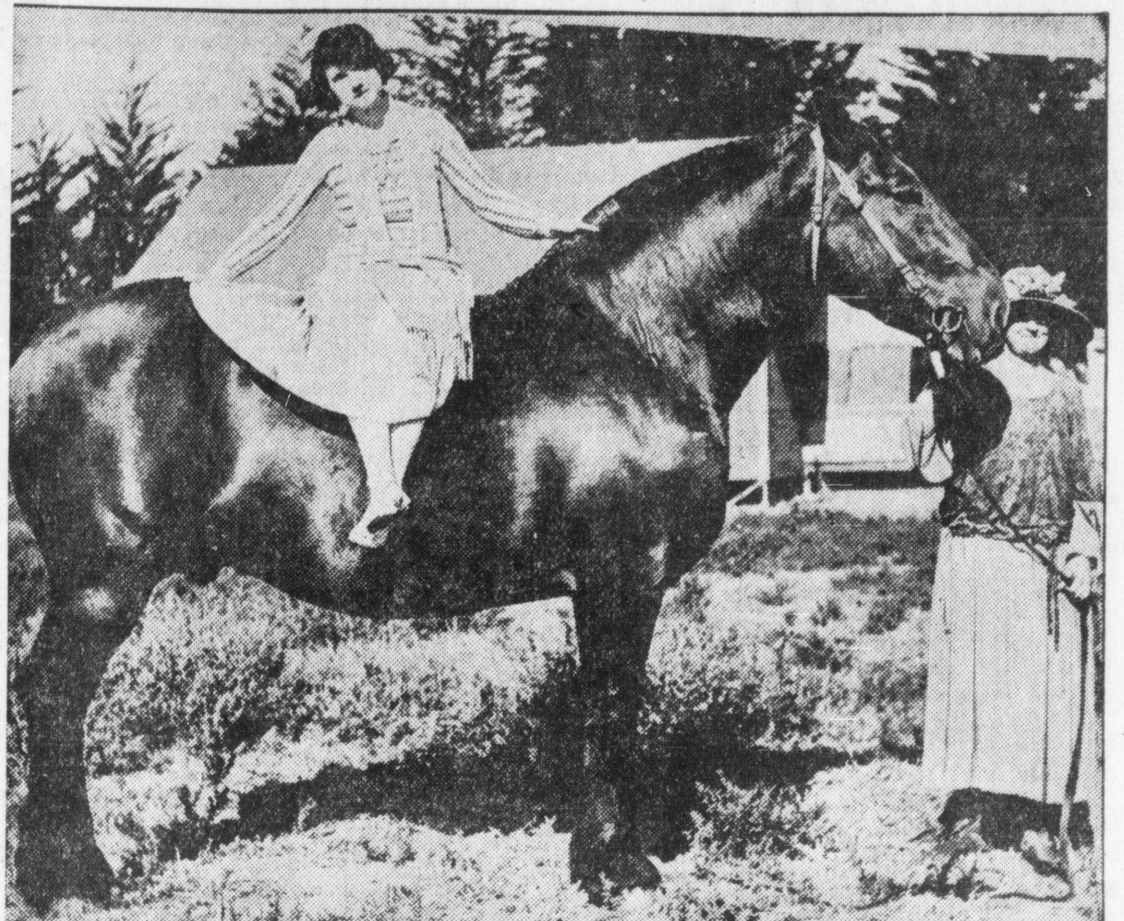

"Guessing and paying—just as you do with your eyesight! For you do guess (and pay for your guess dearly) about your eyesight, the most precious of your senses. Yet there is an Eyesight Standard. Just as all our weights and measures are right solely because of the standards at Washington, so an eye examination is the absolute standard for normal effective eyesight."

"No comparison with what your friends see at the same distance will do anything but mislead you. You can't see through their eyes nor they through yours. But, thanks to the Wellworth Scientific Staff and other workers who have transmitted and broadcasted a priceless heritage of optical science, there are men in your town who can measure your eyesight in terms of what it should be doing for you today. By examining your eyes they can tell you if your sight is up to standard; if it isn't, they can prescribe glasses to bring it up to standard."

"Do for your eyesight what you've long since done for your butter and sugar. Stop short-weighting yourself. Test with the only standard that can tell you anything. Have your eyes examined now!"

SPARKLING MISS RIDES BELGIAN BEAUTY, TO BE EXHIBITED HERE

Neron, magnificent Belgian draft horse, which will be one of the features of the purebred division at the seventh annual Orange county fair, to be held here in September, is one of the best-natured animals Bessie Nell Yocum, talented musician, who will appear on the musical program at the fair, "sat on him." Mrs. Pearl Yocum steadied the $3,000 beauty's head, while Photographer Boden got busy with the camera.

NEW PLANS AS
FORMULATED

With representatives of fifteen Orange county farm centers actively interested in plans for exhibits at the seventh annual Orange county fair to be held here in September, John Ragan, chairman of the farm center executive committee, announced today that tentative plans for specialized and diversified space allotments in the agricultural tent will be submitted to the various centers and the board of directors of the fair in the near future.

"We find," said Ragan, "following a meeting of the farm center executive committee, 'that interest is keen throughout the county in the many wonderful products to be exhibited by the fifteen centers this fall. Already many of the centers, particularly Cypress, are planning far in advance for their displays, and indications are that scores of exhibits will be placed in cold storage at the Taylor cannery here in the near future.'"

"It is hoped that we will be able to fill the spaces in the huge agricultural tent with some of the finest products ever grown in the Southland. The only way we can do this is to win and hold the active co-operation of every rancher in the county. This is Orange county's fair and we want the people of Orange county to pitch in and assist us in proving that we can 'beat the world' when it comes to a question of showing farm products. We are working out special plans for the exhibits in the agricultural tent and we will be glad to take care of every grower in the county."

Following an enthusiastic meeting here yesterday of the purebred stock committee of the seventh annual Orange county fair, plans were going forward today, under direction of Ed Stinson, chairman of this committee, for active participation in this division by scores of stockmen in every section of Orange county.

Among the many entrants in the purebred division will be Neron, magnificent imported Belgium stallion, owned by J. H. Carter, of this county, who has a ranch on West Fifth street, less than two miles from the center of the city.

In the accompanying photograph Miss Bessie Nell Yocum, a beautiful young musician, who will be among the artists to appear on the entertainment program to be given as a part of the fair, is seen demonstrating the excellent disposition of this pedigreed beauty.

Neron, weighing 2,000 pounds, and valued at more than $3,000, is as gentle as a lamb and Miss Yocum and her mother found him as tractable as a well-trained dog. This heavy draft horse, said to be one of the few of his kind in this section of the West, has won the admiration of all who have seen him. Neron is registered purebred by the California department of agriculture. His California number is 2379.

In addition to Neron, there will be splendid exhibits by Ed Stinson and many other Orange county ranchers who are exerting every effort toward making this county assume leadership in this phase of livestock breeding. Manager R. D. Flaherty is convinced this year's exhibits in the purebred division will eclipse anything of the kind ever attempted here.

DELEGATION AT POWER SHOW

That a large number of local farmers and business men will take advantage of the opportunity afforded by the national power and transportation show to be held in Los Angeles this week to make a study of the Fordson tractor and the many power appliances to be used with it, is the statement of George Dunton, Ford dealer, here today.

Dunton has made arrangements to take several men in for this big exposition, and before the show closes he expects to make the representation a record-breaking delegation.

The show this year is the second in a series which promises to become annual events. It will close July 22.

It will be held on the show grounds located on Wilshire boulevard, just west of Rogers' airport, and across the street from Carthay Center, in Los Angeles, and will be open from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m.

In addition to the exhibit of Fordson tractors and Ford trucks by the Ford Motor company, there will be exhibits from sixty of the largest manufacturers of power, transportation and agricultural machinery and equipment in the country.

All these implements, haulage units and power devices will be operated by Fordson tractors, which will be shown solving the power problems of contractors, road builders, railroad transfer men, miners, oil operators, lumber mills, irrigation projects as well as ranchers, fruit growers and farmers.

LOCAL GROWERS ANTICIPATING WALNUT DAY

With C. C. Teague, president of the California Walnut Growers' association, and other experts scheduled to deliver addresses and with a special program on marketing to be featured, many Orange county growers today were making tentative plans for the Walnut Growers Field day, to be held at Ventura, August 18.

"On this occasion," said Farm Advisor H. E. Wahlberg, "prominent growers from all sections of California will be in attendance and some worth-while addresses will be delivered by President Teague, Eugene S. Kellogg, A. W. Christie, C. E. Kelsey, R. E. Smith, H. C. Sharp, T. C. Olmstead, J. D. Culbertson and others."

"Matters to be discussed include dehydration, distribution, co-operative marketing, dusting problems, packing house management, treatment of old orchards, warehouse and field economics and kindred subjects. The list of speakers will include Carlisle Thorpe, general manager of the California Walnut Growers' association, who will discuss 'Quality and Distribution of Walnuts'."

"At noon a picnic dinner will be served, and the afternoon session will be devoted to a field trip, including visits to several groves in Ventura county, where various phases of pest control and improved harvesting methods will be featured."

"Originally, this meeting was scheduled for August 11, but it was postponed until August 18, in order to meet the time schedule of some of the speakers. All are invited to attend."

Fix August 28 for Placentia to Vote
On Sanitary Area

Residents of Placentia will vote August 28 upon the proposal to form a sanitary district, it was learned today, the board of supervisors having fixed that date for the election, following a hearing at the court house late yesterday.

The board denied a protest signed by seven property owners, who objected to having their land included within the proposed district, on the ground that the land was acreage, underlaid with gravel, and not calculated to receive benefits from the projected improvements.

The protest, filed through City Attorney F. H. Lyon of Fullerton, was signed by O. H. Schumacher, Joannes Allee, J. J. Allee, Peter Allee, Benjamin Kraemer, Mrs. M. M. Edwards and A. J. Edwards.

No Over Production Of Cereal Grains Is Forecast This Year

The general crop outlook is fair, but there is no evidence of over-production of cereal grains as compared with the 1917-1921 average, according to the monthly agricultural review, issued by the United States government and received here today by H. E. Wahlberg, Orange county farm advisor.

Decreased production as compared with the five-year average is shown in the case of wheat, corn, oats and rye, the review said, and increases are estimated for barley, apples and peaches. An accumulation of meat animals also is reported.

Value of Co-operative Marketing Body Told by San Dimas Man

UNANIMITY IS NEEDED

Association Head Points Out Orderly Distribution Is Cornerstone

By E. T. Cassel
(President San Dimas Lemon Association.)

It is surely true that the great majority of exchange growers entirely fail to realize the actual personal advantage that would accrue to them if a larger percentage of the California citrus crop were marketed through exchange channels.

It is equally true that most of our growers entirely fail to appreciate either their opportunity or their personal responsibility to assist in bringing about that very desirable condition.

The fact that it would be a desirable condition ought to be so evident that it would be entirely unnecessary to present arguments to establish it, yet when it must be admitted that this obvious fact is not fully recognized, and from the further fact that there is a coterie of salaried representatives of 'outside' or 'independent' interests, continually asserting just the opposite to be true, such representation being made by repeated personal calls and by printed propaganda—it is virtually necessary that every man who has a dollar invested in the citrus industry, give serious thought to the matter.

Tells Great Mistake. It is the outstanding marvel of present day business that a co-operative movement like the exchange could have existed, and could have continued to grow in usefulness through changing conditions for a period of thirty years without anybody making any particular effort to extend its membership or privately or publicly extol its virtues or advantages, and yet it must be known to every citrus grower that until the past few months no such concerted effort has been made. This very fact is probably one of our greatest mistakes, for why, during all these years, should we not have seen the wisdom in such an effort?

Born of necessity—hard, unrelenting necessity—the exchange came into existence when it was actually a case of "hanging together" or "being hanged (financially) separately."

Grows From Bottom. The "exchange" was not in the beginning, and is not now, a movement that was organized from the top downward, but rather it was, and is, a movement which has grown from the bottom upward, firmly rooted in the absolute necessity of the individual grower.

We will all spend time to make a good purchase of fertilizer or orchard supplies, or acquire new and improved cultural methods, all of which is proper, of course, but how many of us purposely and premeditatedly go over to see Neighbor Jones, who is selling his fruit "outside," and sit down on a picnic box and just reason it out with him and bring him into the exchange?

Tells Fact. How many of us realize that this is our job, and that it will pay more actual personal profit, both to Jones and ourselves than many of the things we do for our trees with great regularity? It's a fact, whether we realize it or not.

Every car of oranges, or lemons that moves to market unknown to and undirected by the "exchange" goes just that far toward disturbing orderly distribution, and be it known, orderly distribution is the corner stone upon which the whole marketing structure rests, and without which we all land in the mud. Have you ever thought seriously of the effect on prices when two or three selling organizations are attempting to distribute the fruit supply without any way of knowing what the other fellow is doing? Think about it, and do not let anybody tell you that the "exchange is getting too large" or that "competition is a good thing." Both of these are stock phrases of the "outsider." Competition in this case only means inefficiency.

Need Unanimity
If every exchange grower would tomorrow join the M. O. D. or the American Fruit Growers, either of these organizations could be made entirely useful. What we need is unanimity of action, not different methods. The "trick and deception" in the "outsider" propaganda lies in the fallacious argument that the grower is benefited by competing selling organizations. Unthinkable — does duplication make for efficiency? Do small operations ever decrease overhead? Can three distributing agencies possibly prevent "overstocking" and "under-supplying" given markets, thus causing endless diversions?

Every "exchange" member owes it to every non-exchange grower and to themselves to solicit the co-operation of such growers.
Every non-exchange member owes it to themselves and the "exchange" grower to make an open-minded investigation which will surely result in our mutual good.

RUSSIAN RELIEF WORK GOES TO CONSULATE

MOSCOW, July 18.—The official task of repatriating American citizens from Soviet Russia, hitherto discharged by the American Relief administration, now will be turned over to the American consulate in Riga, due to the liquidation of the administration's Russian operations.

The effect of the Russian division, which was responsible for the repatriation work, has been acting in Russia as an unofficial agent of the United States state department. It has been under the direction of John A. Lehrs, whose long residence in Russia and connection with the American consulate there, prior to the revolution, made him an ideal chief of this department. Of the total number of American citizens whose claims to repatriation were established satisfactorily 459 have already left Russia for the United States. One hundred and twenty-seven are now waiting for their Russian visas, and sixty-three, whose relatives in America are trying to locate them, have not yet been traced. The total number of cases handled by the department since the start includes 730 people.

"The vast majority of the cases," Lehrs declared, "were wives and children of immigrants to America, who had been naturalized and thus automatically extended citizenship, to their families. The number of native-born Americans was exceedingly small, and it is pretty safe to say all of them who desired to leave are now out of Russia."

The most difficult part of the Russian division's work undoubtedly lay in the sifting of the numerous claims to American citizenship. As the applicants were largely women and children, the Soviet government raised comparatively few objections to their departure. The real trouble was to satisfy the United States department and get them into America.

FARM BUREAU HEADS OF REGION TO MEET

Membership and organization will be among important matters scheduled to come up for discussion when the executive secretaries of the farm bureaus of Southern California meet at the farm bureau here, next Friday noon, according to R. D. Flaherty, manager of the Orange county fair, here today.

"This meeting," Flaherty said, "will be attended by secretaries from San Bernardino, San Diego, Riverside, Los Angeles, Imperial, Ventura and Orange counties. At the first meeting of the kind to be held here, the secretaries, meeting at the call of Felix Landis, executive secretary, of San Diego county, will go into farm bureau problems in a very thorough manner. Membership and organization will play a prominent part in the discussion."

Flaherty will represent the Orange county farm bureau.

AUTO NOT BIKE NOW PREY OF JOYRIDER

Flivver stealing may not have put the bike end of the stealing game "on the blink" entirely, but it certainly has crippled it.

The foregoing was ventured today by City Marshal Claude Rogers, who compared figures to ascertain the solvency of these two illicit enterprises.

Ten or fifteen years ago, one of the chief outdoor sports of the police officers was locating nests of stolen bicycles, it was called, as in those days, bike stealing was a flourishing business and was followed with commercial motives.

Majority recovered. But the professional bike thief's palmy days have passed into oblivion as the modern thief pursues the more thrilling pastime perhaps, of stealing gas wagons, records show.

The increase in the use of automobiles, and the consequent commercial side of flivver stealing, were given as reasons by the chief, for the rise of the flivver and the decline of the bike bandit.

Whether joyriders are flivver thieves or flivver thieves are joyriders, it works out that most of the automobile stealing in Santa Ana has been done by joyriders, according to Rogers.

Since January 1, thirty-nine automobiles have been stolen in Santa Ana. Of those thirty-two have been recovered, Rogers said, adding:

"We have rounded up some of the joyriders and as a result we have put a stop to much of the flivver stealing here."

Bike and auto stealing is done at night almost entirely, Rogers pointed out, declaring that bikes usually were stolen from theater curbs.

"Nearly all the bicycle stealing here now is done by persons who want a bicycle for momentary personal use," the chief said. "They ride it off and when they are through with it they leave it lying on the street."

Of the 105 bikes stolen since January 1, forty have been recovered, according to police record.

SANTA BARBARA COUNTY GETS PUREBREDS

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 18.—E. F. Watt, representative of the Dos Pueblos Ranch and Improvement company, Santa Barbara county, California, left here this morning with some of the finest stock that Kansas City has seen in many a day. The two carloads, purchased in Kentucky, were of high-class purebreds.

One load consisted of fancy, high class purebred Kentucky saddle mares and one of the best bred saddle stallions that could be found in an internationally famous equine state.

The other carload was quite as notable. It was made up of registered Hereford 2-year-old heifers from two of the best known Hereford herds in the country—that of the late Colonel E. H. Taylor Jr. of Frankfort, and of Senator J. N. Camden of Versailles, Ky. Fine blood of distinguished "Woodford" ancestry was evident in the sixteen head of purebred heifers, and the yearling bull, Valiant Woodford, by Woodford Sixth, carried off second prize honors as a junior calf at the last International Live Stock exposition in Chicago.

These two cars of stock were purchased by Watt for the Dos Pueblos company and will be used as foundation stock for a very high class herd and stud which the company will establish at Naples.

VOICE AMPLIFIER, RADIO MEET TEST ON HARDING TRIP

By LAWRENCE MARTIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

ON TOUR WITH PRESIDENT HARDING (By mail to United Press).—The terrors of public speaking have been banished, and a revolution has been wrought in the gentle art of campaigning. It has all come about through the radio and voice amplifier.

When President Harding started out June 20 with nineteen formal speeches scheduled, and nobody knew how many informal near-platform ones, it looked like a trip that would try his physical stamina to the utmost, simply on account of the labor involved in public speaking.

The President probably was as agreeably surprised as anyone by the reality, after such a prospect. Not only has his voice failed to show the slightest sign of wear and tear after more than twenty-five speeches, but physically he is fresher today than when he left Washington.

And at the same time, he has been heard by more people than any President ever before reached with his voice in a similar time.

The Voice Amplifier
Two devices are responsible for the new effectiveness and comfort of the President's public speaking. One is the voice amplifier, which is attached to the rear platform of his special train, and which also is erected in every hall and meeting place, indoors and outdoors, where Mr. Harding makes a formal address. Persons blocked from the meeting halls have reported that they heard perfectly every word the President said inside a hall. The Hutchinson, Kansas, speech on agriculture, would have been impossible, Mr. Harding felt, unless he had the assistance of the amplifier in carrying his voice to the great crowd that filled the fair grounds grandstand and overflowed to the infield of the race-track.

It developed there was no voice magnifier available for the Tacoma, Wash., speech on July 5. Mr. Harding said he could not take the risk of straining his throat by trying to reach a big audience outdoors. This situation came to light the day the party was in Hutchinson, Kansas. That night the wires were kept hot, and as a result, within 24 hours the voice magnifier used in Hutchinson, Kansas, was on its way aboard a fast passenger train to Tacoma, where it was used for the Harding speech.

Radio Big Help
The other agency which has given him a bigger audience than any President before him is radio. Mr. Harding's speeches in the principal centers are broadcast, and by special arrangements are transmitted hundreds and in some cases more than a thousand miles, over a telephone wire, and thence transferred to a broadcast station. He has received hundreds of telegrams from people who sat in their homes and listened in as he addressed vast audiences hundreds of miles away.

The possibilities of this in campaigning have interested the President and other members of his party, who see in the new development an entire revolutionizing of old-time campaigning methods. Instead of a long and weary campaign swing, a candidate for President, within a few years at least, will merely visit a few big centers and his words will reach everybody in the United States, whether they want to listen or not, for they can be sent great distances and put on the voice magnifier, so that outdoors or indoors, big audiences can hear them. It will not be surprising to read an announcement like this in some future Presidential campaign.

"John Smith, candidate for President, will speak tonight in Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Denver, Milwaukee and a number of smaller cities. Tune in at 8 p. m. and hear his speech."

The market on California oranges is said to be showing some improvement and the steady, downward trend of last week seems to have been checked. In some markets, stock is bringing slightly higher prices than those which prevailed last week.

Quotations on fancy Valencia's were about $3.25 to $3.65 per box, according to sizes and district.

ADVERTISING MEET TONIGHT BOOSTED

Probably no movement will go further to knit the business men of Santa Ana firmly together as the new Advertising club here, officials of the club suggested today. "The reason for our optimism is that, through such a club as ours," Glenn A. Moore, president, said "the business men, as members, all have 'something to sell' and each is interested in attractive, truthful and persistent advertising as a means to that end."

In this connection it was declared that all who are interested are invited by the club to attend the meeting at St. Ann's Inn tonight, at 6:30 o'clock, when leading coast experts were scheduled to speak.

Special invitations were sent to the members of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the Kiwanis club, the Lions club, the Business Women's club and the Greater Santa Ana club, Moore said, adding that about 100 covers were to be laid.

Stage and Screen

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

YOST—"The Girl of the Golden West" and Larry Semon in "A Midnight Cabaret."

WEST END—"The Woman With Four Faces," with Betty Compson and Richard Dix.

WEST END—"Only 38," Lois Wilson and May McAvoy.

PRINCESS—"The Soul of the Beast," with Madge Bellamy.

TEMPLE—"A Fool There Was," all star cast.

"ONLY 38" AT WEST END TREATS BIG PROBLEM.

One of life's deepest problems—

Shall a widow of thirty-eight or forty years renounce all hope of another love romance in order to obey the wishes of her children, al-

William de Mille's Paramount production of "Only 38." Lois Wilson, one of four featured players, enacts the role of such a mother.

May McAvoy is the grown-up daughter and is also featured, as are Elliott Dexter and George Fawcett.

A woman's right to love and to be loved never ends," declared Miss Wilson. "When her first husband passes away, that ought not mean that his widow live the rest of her life alone and unhappy. She should be able to again seek romance and cheer. In "Only 38" I play the role of a woman less than two-score years old, a widow who finds love again but whose second romance is opposed by her children. I feel certain that I would not spurn happiness were I faced with the same issue in real life."

"Although, as the daughter in "Only 38," I oppose my mother's romance following the death of my father, I would never think of such a thing actually," says Miss Mc-Avoy. "A mother has the same right to romance as her children.

If she thinks it wrong to marry, believing it a disrespect to her dead husband, then she should act as she thinks best. At most, it should not be the business of her children to judge for her. On the other hand, the children would soon marry themselves, automatically leaving the mother alone. Unselfish children naturally think of this beforehand."

ENDS AT PRINCESS.

If an elephant is not enrolled in the actor's hall of fame it won't be the fault of Oscar, who is appearing in the "Soul of the Beast," which will be shown for the last time today at the Princess theater. Oscar qualifies as one of the best all-around heroes in many a picture.

He works hard to put his scenes over and he waddles away with the climax of the production. So what more could you possibly ask of a pachyderm, except to be entertaining, and Oscar is fully successful in that.

"Soul of the Beast" is one of the most ambitious attempts to dramatize the circus stuff that has yet been seen. The story is by C.

Gardner Sullivan and is full of life as Sullivan's scripts are. John

Griffith Wray did not overlook any chances to make the feature interesting, either.

The players with Madge Bellamy and Cullen Landis in the leads and Noah Beery as a somewhat humorous villain, didn't shirk hard trouping. Miss Bellamy in particular, seems to enter right into the spirit of the story, getting on friendly terms with the huge leathery hero and otherwise risking her curls and comfort in making the film.

The humorous, and hokum touches are what put the picture over. It is one of the most entertaining pictures that has been seen in a long time and if you miss it you are likely to miss something really different and refreshing in photoplays.

There will be two performances this evening at 6:30 and 8:45.

"THE MAN NEXT DOOR"

TO RUN AT TEMPLE

"The Man Next Door" is one of the most famous novels by America's most popular novelist, Emerson Hough. He is the man who brought with vivid reality the great open west and its growth and development before the eye of the American millions who live east of the Mississippi river, that great artery that divides the continent.

He is the author of "The Covered Wagon," "The Mississippi Bubble,"

"54-40 or Fight," "North of 36." All of his work has been marked by a vigorous love of his country and its advancement.

The fact that he did not begin writing for publication until middle life caused Emerson Hough to be regarded by many as one of the younger writers. In fact, he is a veteran of nation-wide note as a daring explorer, big game hunter and devoted nature-lover before most of the "young lions" of Greenwich Village were born.

"THE CRITICAL AGE"

COMING TO YOST

"The Critical Age," a picturiza-

Ralph Connor, produced by Ernest

Shipman, is coming to the Yost

Theatre. For those who are looking for a clean-cut entertainment

with plenty of pathos and thrills, intermingled with rib-tickling comedy, will find this production to be out of the ordinary.

It is a story of a country lad whose ambition is to attend college. It took quite some time to wake him from his dreaming habits, but when a rival for his schoolyard sweetheart enters the scene, then things begin to happen.

How he rescues the girl from the rapids and also saves her father from the machinations of notorious politicians forms one of the most pleasing as well as thrilling stories that have appeared on the screen of the Yost Theatre for some time.

Wolf, a big Belgian police dog, plays a very important part in the picture and shows a great amount of human intelligence. "The Critical

Age" was directed by Henry Mc-

Rae and was made upon the exact locations as called for by Ralph

Connor's famous novel.

The cast consists of well known

James Harrison, Pauline Garon,

Harlan Knight and Wallace Ray.

Pauline Garon does an exceptional

"The Critical Age," a Hodkinson-

Shipman picture, is one of the best known of Ralph Connor's works. It it an hour and a half of clean-cut entertainment and worth while

NERO AT TEMPLE

William Fox is willing to stake his reputation as a producer of motion pictures that "Nero" is the greatest screen drama ever made.

This marvelous reproduction of the life and times of the last of the Caesars will be shown at the Temple Theatre next Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Requiring over a year of time and the services of the greatest human mob ever used in a motion picture, it was photographed in Italy and a number of the best foreign actors were engaged for the leading characters. Filled with sensational effects, its greatest thrill is the burning of Rome. It was directed by J. Gordon Ed-

"A FOOL THERE WAS" TO BE

BIG ATTRACTION AT TEMPLE

There are thousands of vampires in real life and tens of thousands of fools. Just take a look over the newspapers any day.

In producing the 1922 version of

has kept his vampire up to date.

You can read his story anytime in the newspaper reports. The picture which will be presented at the Temple theatre tonight is from the sensational stage success

by Porter Emerson Browne, inspired by Rudyard Kipling's poem,

"The Vampire," a combination that has resulted in a drama that moves with splendid entertainment.

Estelle Taylor's vampire is something worth looking at. She goes on her vampish way luring with charm and personality instead of hectic sex appeal which has been so overdone in other roles of this sort.

REAL WEST RELICS USED IN
"THE GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST"

Realism is the keynote of Edwin

Carewe's production of "The Girl of the Golden West," a First National picture coming to the Yost

Theatre for 4 days. Not only were the exteriors of the play taken in the territory made famous as the scene of the historic California gold rush of 1849, but also

BLAME SUICIDE ON RAVAGES OF DRUGS

Although virtually convinced that death was due to poisoning, and that the drug was self-administered, Coroner C. D. Brown today was unable to assign a positive motive for the suicide here last Saturday of a man believed to be Victor Larson, 55, whose body was found near the Ketscher nursery, on East Fourth street.

"I am inclined to believe, however," said Coroner Brown, "that the man, a victim of the drug habit, became despondent and decided to end his life by taking a deadly drug. Just what this poison was, we are unable to determine. Near the body, we found a small bottle, with a paper stopper. This bottle contained, as far as I have been able to determine, a small quantity of water.

Needle Wounds Found. "In addition, there was a small folding cup. It is my belief that the man placed some poison in the cup, using the water in the bottle, as a sort of mixture, and then drank the contents of the cup. Physicians who examined the body at the inquest, held here late yesterday, found numerous small wounds on the arms, stomach, chest and legs. It was thought that these little sores were caused by a needle used in administering hypodermic injections.

"Aside from his watch, which bore the inscription, 'To Victor Larson, from Frances,' there was nothing to identify the man. We believe he was a stranger here, but a search of the rooming house guest lists failed to throw any light on the subject.

Trace Despondency. One man, a Santa Fe employee, is said to have seen the man near the station here on Friday, preceding the suicide. An envelope in the man's pocket indicated he was despondent. On this was scribbled 'Three thousand miles from home and no friends.' We found 30 cents in the man's pockets. There were no papers.

Following a verdict by a coroner's jury that death was "due to some form of poison, to us unknown," funeral services for Larson were to be conducted here late today from the Smith and Tutill parlors. The body will be buried at the county's expense.

VITAMINES E' PONENT TO BE PICNIC GUEST

Dr. E. V. McCollum, world's discoverer of vitamins, which revolutionized the matter of diet, is to be the guest of the California Dairy council at the Humboldt dairymen's picnic, at Loleta, July 28, according to advices received from Sacramento today by W. M. Cory, assistant farm adviser, here.

Several lectures are being scheduled for Dr. McCollum, including one or more at the University of California. Efforts will be made to induce him to speak in Southern California before he departs for the east.

WESTMINSTER

Permission to dispose of two acres of ground at Westminster, owned by the First Presbyterian church of that place, was asked in a petition on file today in the superior court here. The church desires to sell the property for $2,000 to J. G. Hurst and J. S. Lawrence. Proceeds of the sale, it was stated, would be used to improve other property owned by the church.

TELLS FEATURES OF HUNTINGTON LIBRARY

The story of the founding and expansion of the great Henry E. Huntington library and art gallery was told at St. Ann's Inn here yesterday to members of the Santa Ana Rotary club, including an unusually large number of guests, by George Watson Cole, librarian of the world-famous institution.

"A man who retires from business without a hobby is lost," Cole declared. "Huntington's hobby was the collection of books, and when he retired from active business life he devoted his time to his hobby."

With this explanation of why the library was founded, Cole outlined some of its history during the past fifteen years, during which millions of dollars have been spent in the purchase of rare books. The purchase of three great collections, those made by E. Dwight Church, Robert Hoe and Alfred H. Hyth, were followed by purchase of English libraries.

Today the Huntington library has several hundred copies that alone remain from editions published in the early days of printing. The Shakespeare and English poetry collections are without equal in the world excepting possibly those in the British museum, Cole declared.

While the library is strongest as a collector of English literature, it is among the greatest collectors of books on American history, with a department especially strong on printed copies of West coast and Southwest historical material, he pointed out.

"The library will never be popular in the sense that a public library is popular," Cole said. "It is a library of original sources for research workers."

Elmer E. Jahraus of Laguna Beach was chairman at yesterday's luncheon, and the program preceding the address was by Laguna Beach residents. Vocal solos by Victor Rankin, talented Laguna boy, and James S. Murphy, vocal instructor, and piano solos by Frank W. Cuprien, artist, made up the most appreciated portion of the program.

SCORE SUCCESS IN GOLF CLUB ROLLS DRIVE

Excellent progress was made here yesterday, on the opening day of the drive to "sell" the country club idea to residents of Santa Ana and Orange county, according to chairman of the six committees actively engaged in soliciting memberships. One committee turned in the names of twenty new members today. The drive will close next Friday.

"In visiting those who have been asked to join the Santa Ana Country club," said Charles G. Twist, a committeeman and a member of the board of directors, "we are striving to stress the returns—direct and indirect—that accrue from the establishment of a modern clubhouse and golf course."

"It may not be generally known, but it is a fact, that many very desirable citizens are attracted through this medium alone. A good golf course and a good clubhouse will do much to influence a man, who loves the game, when it comes to a question of selecting his future home."

"A great many Eastern and Canadian business men, men of means, and equally desirable citizens of less means, are coming to California looking for a place in which to settle."

"These men buy property, enter business, and become a vital part of the social and civic life of the community. Thus they add to the population, help increase real estate values and swell the volume of business. Many, and an ever increasing number of these, would hesitate to buy property or locate in a community where there are no golf courses or country club privileges."

"Santa Ana is far behind other communities in this respect. We need and must have the best clubhouse and golf grounds possible."

SEAL BEACH WOMAN PAYS BIG FINE

Found guilty of violating the prohibition law, Mrs. M. A. Blankenship, one of the owners of Seal Inn at Seal Beach, paid a fine of $1,000 in federal court, Los Angeles, it was learned here today.

Mrs. Blankenship appeared yesterday before District Judge James in the second day's session of "bootleg bargain week," so called because of special consideration offered those charged with violations of the prohibition law who plead guilty and, thus, obviate the time and expense of a trial.

The sentence given Mrs. Blankenship, whose establishment was raided by federal dry agents several months ago, was said to be the most severe imposed upon a woman at the present session of the court. Thirty-six violators, in all, were in court yesterday, paying fines aggregating $10,875.

NEWPORT LEVY JUST LEARNED HERE, CLAIM

Many Santa Ana residents who own property at Newport Beach are aware of the fact that an assessment of $5.91 was made last April against each lot to pay the costs of reconstructing the ornamental lighting system in the beach city.

The assessment became delinquent May 10, last, and all unpaid claims are a lien on the property involved.

According to a statement made by one of the members of the firm of Quick Brothers, Los Angeles, who purchased claims from Contractor Ross, only about 60 per cent of the owners have paid. There are approximately 2300 claims, each claim representing a lot, it was understood.

Frank Rhinehart, street superintendent of Newport Beach, is authority for the statement that approximately only 25 per cent of the lots involved in the assessment have been released.

He pointed out that after owners get receipts from Quick Brothers, they should forward them to him for official release of property covered by the receipt.

He also pointed out that owners should give this matter attention at once, in order to avoid clouded titles.

It was reported that hundreds of lot owners did not receive mail notice of the assessment, and that hundreds of those who have paid learned of the assessment purely by accident.

GAS PRICE WAR NOT TO REACH S. A. YET

Joyriders of Santa Ana will not operate "cuddle buggies" or other motor vehicles on fuel costing less than the retail price established by the "big six" producing companies, in the opinion of local distributors of the product of independent companies, expressed here today.

They declared the "gasoline war" raging in Los Angeles, with the fuel of the independent concerns retailing at 13 and 15 cents the gallon, has not and likely will not extend to Santa Ana.

It was pointed out by a retailer of "independent" fuel that, as the peak consumption period is at hand, it is not probable an attempt will be made to carry the "war" outside of Los Angeles. One of the local retailers of fuel manufactured by an independent concern admitted that gas could be sold here at a lower price, with a good margin of profit.

According to information from Los Angeles, there is little probability of the big companies making a retail rate that will compete with that established by some of the independents.

'SKYLIGHT' BURGLAR SIGHTED ON ROOF

The "skylight" burglar came to police notice again today, when J. W. McCormac, head of a business college at Main and Church streets, said he saw a man on the roof of his building last night. Police investigation failed to locate the man, a report said.

Evidence of operations of the "skylight" burglar had been missing since his attempt to enter the Pashley Motor company garage, at West Fifth and Ross street, several nights ago.

He has been connected by the police with the robbing of Gilbert's Dry Good store and the attempted blowing of the safe in the Woolworth department store. Entrance was made in each case through the skylight.

Arrest Suspect In Huge Bank Swindle

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Larkin J. Flannigan, said to be a notorious forger known throughout the United States, is held here today following three asserted swindles on local banks amounting to $6,000.

Flannigan is wanted in San Francisco and, according to the California Bankers' association, he has operated recently in Chicago, New York and San Antonio, Texas.

Warring Factions In Mexicali Compromise

MEXICALI, Mexico, July 18.—The excitement in Mexicali is over today following removal of Mayor Juan Loera's little band of insurgents from the city hall where they had been barricaded two days, by federal troops.

The wounded are being cared for in hospitals here and a temporary compromise has been effected between the opposing forces.

L. A. Police Seize 7 as Burglar Suspects

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Seven men and women are in jail here today charged with being members of an organized gang of criminals said to have committed upwards of seventy-five burglaries here recently with plunder totaling $100,000.

The arrests resulted when Albert Rodriguez, said to be leader of the bandit ring, made a full confession to police.

Radio Supplies, Bob Gerwing, 312 North Broadway.

Federal Agents Nab Shelby Battle Films

LOS ANGELES, July 18.—Entering the Horsely studios on a search warrant, federal agents obtained the negatives of the long sought for Dempsey-Gibbons fight films, smuggled out of Shelby by airplane and brought here for development.

There is no penalty for developing or showing the films, so the government agents are still hunting the man who did the actual promoting.

Harry Grossman, cameraman who took the films, said they will be shown only in Montana, and were brought here for development.

WAR HABIT OF CANNING FRUIT PERSISTS

"Fruit canning season began with a bang this year."

So the leading hardware men testify each day, as they look over their increasing orders for fruit jars, for home canning.

"The fruit canning habit, formed during the war, has persisted," said the manager of one of the largest hardware stores in the city, and the other merchants agreed with him.

"Women in the homes are buying more fruit jars since the war than they did before," was the opinion put forth, as the 1923 season opened with large orders, right at the beginning.

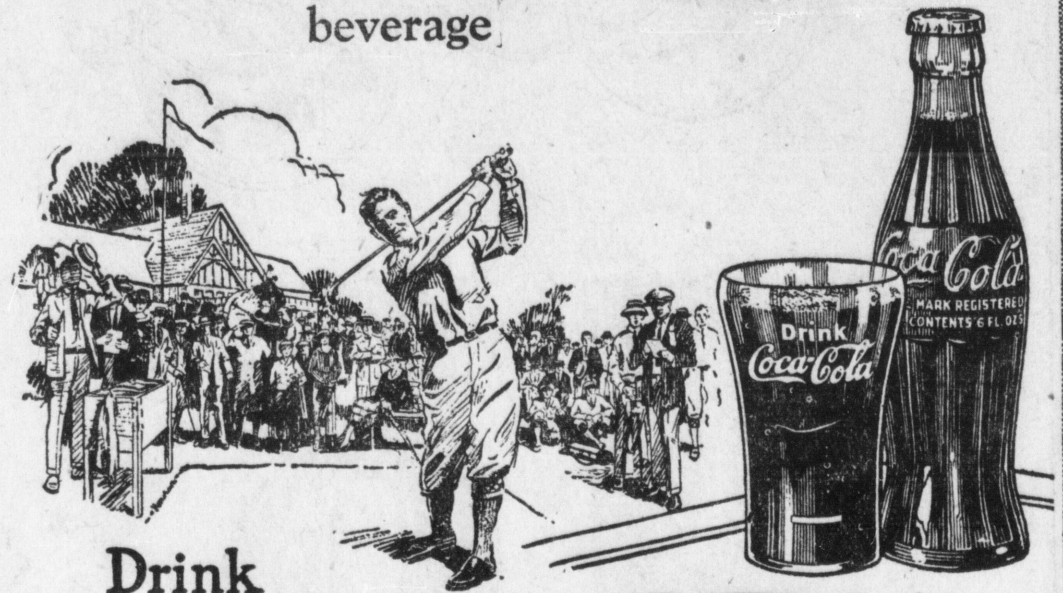

Vegetables were canned in large quantities in war time for thrift purposes, but hardware men were unanimous in their belief that the canning of vegetables in the home has been abandoned.

The fruit season this year bids fair to be a good one and the next month and a half will mean a rushing business in the home canning of fruit, it was said.

Figure this: The Register has more than 8,000 subscribers. In Orange county, and for every subscriber there are four or five readers.

Day By Day Improvements are Increasing Values at South Park Homesites

Walled in on three sides Santa Ana can grow in but one direction—TO THE SOUTH. This growth is bound to follow the present and proposed main traffic arteries.

South Park Homesites for this reason is the ONE spot that is destined to grow and develop into a beautiful residential paradise.

Main Street on the east with its bus lines, Broadway extended through the tract, and Flower Street on the west make this tract the logical place for an ideal home. Small business blocks are already planned for Main Street to serve the needs of those who are going to build.

ALL IMPROVEMENTS

The construction gangs now engaged in laying the cement sidewalks, putting in curbs, grading for the granite rock streets, laying gas and water mains, show that we mean business. Activity means development, new buildings, and increased value. That's the reason we are urging the wise investor to buy NOW and get in on the long profits.

FIGHTERS IN SHAPE FOR BEACH PROGRAM*Sparring Partners Take Beatings as Battlers Go Through Workouts

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 18. Jack McDonald, of Seattle, who fought in the Shelby preliminaries, and kayoned his man in the second round, is rapidly rounding into the pink of condition at the Beach City Athletic clubhouse, formerly the old city garage on Fifth street. He showed so much "kick" in his punches yesterday that it was necessary for Protectors Jack McDonough and Louie Lawton to purchase a new punching bag.

McDonald is considered by those who follow the game and have seen him in action to be the best 175 pounder on the Pacific coast, and unless Sam Isman of Los Angeles shows some real fight he is scheduled to take the count soon after one of McDonald's pile-drivers lands.

Ted Frenchie of Los Angeles, colored, is matched with Louie Alverado, of San Diego. Frenchie is said to be right there with the goods, and although he has not worked out at the local ring speculation is rife as to whether Louie Alverado will go the four rounds with him.

The third event which both promoters declare is good enough to be first on the card is the battle between Battling Hoppe, Huntington Beach, and Packy Flynn, Los Angeles. Hoppe knocked one of his right there with the goods, and ropes yesterday afternoon in a practice melee. He is on the card at San Pedro Thursday night.

Hank Gatten, Santa Ana, whose prowess is well known, will try hard to knock Harry Lee, Huntington Beach, out of his shoes. Lee is right there with the goods, and he certainly looks like a "million" in the workouts. He is the local life guard and pulled a fellow out of the ripide Sunday. Now he says he feels like beating up on someone.

Kid Mack, of Los Angeles, will mix with Babe Orton, of Anaheim, in a 133 pound event. Both of these boys are nice little fighters and should furnish the fans with a thrill.

Tommy Aguerre, of Huntington Beach, and Bennie LeRoy, of Los Angeles, will go through the mill in the curtain riser.

In the Big Leagues

Homers by Snyder and Groh produced four runs and gave the Giants a 7 to 3 victory over the Cubs.

Adolfo Luque, star pitcher of the season, hurled the Reds to a double victory over the Braves at 4 to 3 and 9 to 5. He went six innings of the first game and the entire distance in the second.

Hauser's homer was the only tally counted off Cventros and the Athletics lost to the White Sox, 8 to 1.

George Uhl let the Yanks down with four feeble hits and the Indians won, 13 to 0. Babe Ruth and Bengough were the only Yanks to get as far as second.

Four singles, a double and triple accounted for six runs in the fourth inning and the Robins won from the Pirates, 6 to 2.

Fred Toney bettered Jimmy Ring in a pitcher's battle, and the Cards beat the Phils, 2 to 1, in ten innings.

Steady pitching by Johnson enabled the Tigers to beat the Senators, 4 to 2.

Sport Flashes

BALTIMORE—Reports that could not be confirmed were circulated here that Joe Doley, star shortstop of the Baltimore Orioles, has been sold to the New York Yanks for delivery at the end of the season. The club refused a major league offer of $125,000 for Boley early in the season.

LONDON—Strained muscles sustained in training may prevent Comins and Rusnak, star Yale sprinters, from competing for the Yale-Harvard team when it meets the Oxford-Cambridge team here Saturday.

NEW YORK—Clarence "Peck" Griffin of California, former national doubles champion, has joined the list of stars who will compete for the Coking national tennis classics. Griffin is to play with William M. Johnston in the doubles.

ST. LOUIS—The winning spurt of the St. Louis Browns has restored confidence in the team here and rumors that Lee Fohl was to be deposed as manager of the team heard some time ago, have been forgotten.

NEW YORK—Johnny Buff, former flyweight and bantam champion, reached the end of his string last night when he was stopped in the ninth round by Harry Catena, New York lightweight.

TRENTON, N. J.—In a report to the state boxing commission, the federal revenue department gave the actual attendance at the Firpo-Willard fight, as 79,526 and the total receipts as $390,837. There were 75,712 paid admissions, 2,786 complimentary and 1,028 press tickets, according to the report.

Luis Angel Firpo and Jack McAniff II, who fought so ferociously against each other at the Polo Grounds milk fund exhibition, now are buddies. They have been training together down at Allenhurst, N. J., sleep at the same place, eat at the same table, box together at exhibitions and yet neither of them can understand a word the other says.

Firpo's rugged intelligence has not yet been able to master the English language, and MacAniff knows not one word of Spanish.

But they have breached the chasm which might have separated them when Firpo pounded MacAniff to a pulp.

Frankie Frisch is well on his way to making 200 saf. hits this season. He was the first player in the big leagues to make 100 hits.

His great feat is to beat the ball down to first. He would probably be able to steal a few bushels of bases every year because of his tremendous speed, if it were not for the fact that he can't slide.

Frisch still dives head-first for the bag on a close play, the way he used to up at Fordham University a few years ago, before he went to the Giants.

He is studying the hook, however, and if he masters it he may develop into the best man in the majors on the bases.

Bear Hunting in Alaska

These articles, which will appear in the sporting page of The Register, were written by George Briggs, well known Santa Ana capitalist and sportsman, who recently returned from the far north on a hunting trip.

9th.—For the most part of two days we have been traveling. This morning we left the little bay in which we saw the big track and headed for Hoonaa Sound. We struck the Narrows at the wrong time of tide and that raging torrent simply turned our little boat around like cork. Finally we went with it and getting in a little back eddy, dropped the hook and waited about three hours for the tide to turn, and then went ashore and stretched our legs, while Bailey told me some more of the tribal stories relating to the wonderful things the medicine man could do. "Bailey," I said, "if you were sick which would you rather have, white or native doctor?" Oh, I take white doctor I guess," he replied.

We were just breaking away from Peril Straits into Hoonaa Sound when Bailey pointed to a big black rock above timber line and at the top of a low mountain and said that was the place a big bear mauled and chewed a young native two years ago, with whom he was hunting. I had several times heard of the circus snatches of "see old and three young natives were after deer which run on the very top of the mountains during the fall on account of the flies and mosquitoes. They separated, one young fellow staying near Bailey, the others out of sight. He heard this young fellow shoot a 25x20, heard a bear growl and the boy cry. Bailey ran to his friend and found a big male bear carrying the young fellow down the hill by the shoulder while a large female was walking sideways on her hind legs. The boy was crying and moaning.

Bailey was afraid to shoot at the male for fear of hitting the boy but shot at the female and missed. All the time shouting for his companions. The male then dropped the boy and went into the bushes.

Although the boy was mutilated, the three men carried him down the mountain, so steep it seemed to me an impossible task, dressed thirty-six wounds and took him to Sitka. He recovered to die of heart failure, probably brought on by awful bites and the broken leg, shoulder and arm.

The next morning we were up at four o'clock and rowed across the bay and while Bailey watched, took a long hike. Bear had been on the beach and the marks were fairly fresh, so concluded to stick around, and give Bailey a chance to put his boat in drydock, do a little caulking and paint the bottom. This is easy on a two-toned foot tide. Simply run her onto sandy beach and let the tide go out.

Land otta within forty feet this morning while crossing bay but didn't shoot for fear of scaring bear. Also saw first large flock of swish or black ducks, probably 300. This is Rodman bay, famous for its wonderful crabs in quantity, size and flavor. Dandy day again, sun bright and warm. Took four-hour hunt alone while Bailey painted the old tub.

11th.—Ashore at 4:30 a. m., but saw no new signs so will leave Rodman bay this morning. Deer every day and everywhere. 12 Noon. Just dropped the hook in Saook bay and it looks good from the boat. Saw bear here three years ago but didn't get him—hope for better luck this time. Surprised at the amount of snow here and at the head of Rodman. Will make a hunt ashore about 4:30—meantime watching slide. Slow work and doesn't just appeal to my hunting instinct.

3:15 p. m.—From magnificent weather and what promised good today, it had turned into a cold rain, almost snow, when Bailey, always on the lookout, called me to see a bear. Even with the binoculars I failed to locate anything in that little brushy opening in the timber and I returned to the cabin out of the rain. Not so Bailey, with goggles and rain coat, he stuck and soon hurriedly called me again to watch a big black spot on a huge rock.

Watching, I saw it move and there, sure enough, was a very large bear at about 1400 yards and he must be in prime fur for the glasses show him black. Timber too heavy so we can only wait for him to show on the slide either side of him. How in the world that Indian's eyes ever picked up that object in the thick tangle is a mystery to me.

After 16 days of constant watching and hunting this is our first sight of bear. A raven squawked overhead and Bailey remarked "He say we get bear—he talk that." Hope he is right and that my next entry will record a trophy. Cold wind and rain but I couldn't stay aboard all day without some exercise so, at 5:30 p. m. put on hip boots, rubber coat and sou'wester and went ashore and walked until 8 p. m.

12th.—Saw bear again about noon but wind blowing hard and raining, so I didn't make a hunt for him. Took another two-hour hike ashore and saw quite a lot of geese, ducks and deer.

13th.—Left Santa Ana just a month ago today. The guide up at four watching but I remained abed until five. Had breakfast early and after conference concluded that as mountain wouldn't come to Mahomed, Mahomed would go to the mountain. We started that climb at 6:30 and got back on the beach at 12:20 and I want to record it as the toughest job I ever undertook. Performed every acrobatic feat known. Didn't get the bear—didn't even see him, for he probably got our scent and beat it. The mountain was straight up and down, and land and snow slides had piled loose dirt and down timber everywhere. To add to our discomfort and peril, snow was melting and sending rivulets down so we were wallowing in snow water and mud, hanging on by an eyelash—it surely got my number pretty quick.

1:30 p. m.—Raised the hook and left for Keip bay portage, resolving to return and have a try for this bear at another time. I shall always believe this was the bear I later had some business with.

Got to Keip bay, went ashore and hunted until eight, seeing one fresh track. Sleepy and tired I piled into bunk at 9:15 and I think I had dozed a little when Bailey said "Quick—bear on beach, quick, put on pants and boots."

I was almost "panted and booted" when he got through telling me and grabbing the gun and some shells. I jumped into the skiff. Could see a dark object walking along beach, near trees while Bailey rowed straight for it. I tried my sights and by concentration, could just catch the head. Just before getting onto the beach Bailey stopped the boat and I got out and ran, bent over, for about 150 yards, the bear stopping to feed on grass. I dropped to one knee and tried to catch the sights. The bear feeding and walking diagonally toward timber. The darkness made it hard shooting.

What seemed ages was but really only few seconds until I located the head on the bear and at crack of the 35x95 I saw him fall. Without waiting I ran as fast I could directly for the bear because I wanted my second shot close. Bailey called "Look out, he try to get up" and sure enough he was trying to get onto his feet but couldn't stand. I then gave him the second shot at about 20 steps and you should have heard him howl. Then walking toward him and timber which gave me better shooting light, as he was growling and tearing at everything, I got up close and broke his neck. Bailey came over, we shook hands and I then took out my watch to find it ten minutes of ten, our time. The 13th had run true to form. We opened him a little so he wouldn't bloat, went back and were soon in bed asleep.

14th.—Up early for hunt, returned to boat at eight for breakfast and then ashore to skin out my bear. He is not extra big for this species but is in fine fur and I shall value the trophy for the peculiar markings, white collar and grizzled grey coat. Although he differs from any of the Kodiak species I have seen this does not mean he is so very rare, but while I have killed some and seen a number none have had these markings. I should say he shows very strongly the grizzly strain that unquestionably run in these bears. I wouldn't say he strikingly resembles the silvertip I have seen and yet, there is a resemblance, as the fur shows silver and grey.

The white collar goes around the neck true with only one little break or fault. The head and claws are of the island species—very pretty. His measurement was six feet, seven inches. I would like to get the opinion of some old hunter in these parts as I do not value the classification some of our parlor naturalists would give.

The next day we ran to White Rock where we will hunt this afternoon. Went ashore at four and found ideal conditions for bear. Bailey went up a tree watching while I took a look over some little parks he couldn't see. At seven he suggested we come home but I had a hunch and wanted to stay. We then agreed to take a look further up the valley and in coming out of a little clump of timber there stood three bear facing us, feeding, about 100 yards away, but one jump put them into brush and we never saw them again.

DELAY DECISION ON BIG TITLE CONTEST*Talk Hurting Chances for Leonard-Tendler Bout, Promoters Charge

BY HENRY L. FARRELL,
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, July 18.—Another promise of "something today or tomorrow" about the Dempsey-Firpo heavyweight championship match was made today by Tex Rickard.

"There are just a few little details to get straightened out before I can make a definite announcement of when and where the match is to be held," Rickard said. Rickard was willing to say positively that the South American would meet Dempsey for the title before the end of the year and in the United States of America.

Firpo Under Contract
"I have Firpo under contract to meet Dempsey this year and if I am unable to make the match I am no promoter," Rickard said. Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, takes the stand that he does not care where the fight is to be held. He is more interested in the date, as he wants to send Dempsey against Firpo and Wills before the end of the year.

Kearns prefers Labor Day for the Firpo match and he wants the Wills bout in or near New York around world's series time.

Getting a world's heavyweight championship near the time of the baseball classic may cause the major magnates to froth some more and they have been frothing plenty all summer because so many fine boxing cards have been placed in competition with the "grand old national pastime."

Leonard vs. Tendler
While heavy conversation is being centered in the heavyweight division to the exclusion of other sport, the promoters of the Leonard-Tendler fight are getting peeved.

The intimation is passed around that Rickard in promising "something definite today or tomorrow," is merely throwing words and trying to crowd the lightweight championship bout next Monday on to the classified page.

"The Leonard-Tendler fight is a 'natural,' though, and the tickets are going as though there were no such thing as a heavyweight," Jimmy Johnston, promoter of the fight said today.

Leonard and Tendler are both working into the final stages of their training and it seems certain from the advance sales that the fight will draw a half million dollars. Leonard has been established a slight favorite in the early betting.

PORT CHAMBER MAY ENDORSE FREIGHT ROAD

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The matter of a fitting celebration to mark the completion of the $450,000 paving project here will be taken up by the directors of the Orange County Harbor Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting Thursday evening at the Newport Harbor Yacht club's quarters, it was announced today by Harry Welch, secretary of the chamber.

Plan One Day Fiesta

Under tentative plans all Orange county towns would be invited to be present at a one-day fiesta, one feature of which would be a parade of hundreds of cars on the smooth, new boulevards. Floats will be entered from Orange county towns and prizes offered, perhaps.

The proposed freight highway from Anaheim, via Santa Ana, Garden Grove, Wintersburg, and Costa Mesa, to the county harbor will be discussed and endorsed probably given the road, it was declared by directors. The new highway, which would be built by bonds voted by the road districts through which it would pass, would be confined to heavy truck traffic, so that the main arteries would be available solely for pleasure cars.

The tremendous wear and tear of the huge, heavily loaded machines is damaging the present paved roads in the county to considerable extent, it is said. This would be avoided in the Newport road when the commerce begins to flow that way in the volume hoped for.

Plan Fair Booth

The chamber is busy on plans for a splendid booth for the county fair to be held in Santa Ana in September. The booth will be a subject for discussion.

SOUTHLAND SAILING CLUB HAS CONTESTS

(Special to The Register)
BALBOA, July 18.—The first race for the 1923 Farwell trophy, open to twenty-foot yachts, was sailed by the Southland Sailing club Sunday at 2 o'clock, over the bay course at Balboa. Nine boats took part in the race and finished in the following order: "Doris," (Riverside), sailed by Millard C. Boyd, first, followed by "Ray Sing," of Balboa, sailed by Paul Palmer; "Don D." of Hollywood, sailed by E. Roy Davidson; "Pal O'Mine" of Los Angeles, sailed by Captain Frank M. Davenport; "Saucy Lass" of East Newport, sailed by George Colman; "Sandpiper" of Los Angeles, sailed by Hampton; "Polly G" of Pasadena, sailed by Lee B. Milbank; "Ah Deek" of Riverside, sailed by Arthur B. White; "Black Cat" of Newport Beach, sailed by George Vibert. This race was sailed under the San Diego rule for computing time allowances. The final positions and points scored by the different boats have not yet been determined, but the Riverside boat, "Doris," finished more than thirty minutes ahead of the second boat and will undoubtedly hold first place when the handicaps are computed.

The first race for the Fisher cup was run at 3 o'clock over the same course by the regatta committee of the Southland Sailing club. This was a "boat for boat," contest without time allowances. The three, thirty-foot sloops, "Marpisa," owned and manned by the Farwell boys, the "Trouble," owned and sailed by Mrs. Damon Runyon with her crew made up exclusively of girls, and "Loose," capably handled by Miss Carpenter, daughter of Ingle Carpenter of Los Angeles, with the assistance of Captain Cecil Sherman, made a fine contest over the four-mile course, with the two famous "Star" boats, "Pollux," sailed by Messrs. Lawrence and Baxter of Upland, and "Flotiza," sailed by the Price boys of Los Angeles. This race attracted much attention as did the Farwell contest, and the five big boats made a beautiful sight for the many Sunday visitors at Newport bay. The race ended in a most interesting and exciting finish when the "Marpisa" and the "Pollux" came down the bay on almost even terms. "Marpisa" was declared the winner by the regatta committee, though only two seconds separated her from the Lawrence-Baxter boat.

The second contest for the Farwell trophy is set for Sunday, the 22nd inst., at 2 o'clock, and will be followed by the second contest for the Fisher trophy at 3:30 o'clock on the same date.

Southland Sailing club has adopted a unique plan for making popular the sport of yacht racing at Newport bay. It maintains several bulletin boards at conspicuous points along the beach and bay shore, and posts weekly race announcements for the information of the summer residents and visitors. This policy has resulted in a very substantial interest shown by the public in these weekly races, and the membership of the club is fast increasing.

BIG AIR RACE

MILAN, Italy, July 18.—Seventy-four airplanes took part in the race for the Baracca Cup, over a circular course of 100 kilometres (62.5 miles) from Cinesello, near here. Thirty completed the distance.

$1000 Damage Done By Fire In Orange Tuesday Afternoon

ORANGE, July 18.—Fire which practically destroyed the one-story frame building occupied by the Orange Sanitary Dairy on North Olive street, broke out late yesterday afternoon, causing damage estimated at $1,000.

Covered By Insurance
According to J. W. Triplett, owner of the dairy, a faulty flue was responsible for the loss.

The flame resisted the efforts of the fire department stubbornly. The fire crept between the ceiling and the roof, and the firemen had to practically tear the top from the building before any water could be played on the flames. None of the contents were damaged except by water.

DATE IS SET FOR CHAMBER ELECTION

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 18.—Thursday, July 26, was set as the date for the nominating election of officers of the local Chamber of Commerce, at the meeting yesterday noon.

Mail Out Ballots
It is the plan of the chamber to mail out sample ballots to the members to vote for their candidate. The highest fifteen will be chosen. There will be an entire corps of new officers as the present board of directors have all resigned.

It was also decided at the meeting yesterday that the Chamber of Commerce appropriate $500 for the Labor Day program to be given in Huntington Beach.

Peddlers Beware!
A committee to investigate the condition of affairs in regard to the selling of articles handled by the local merchants, by traveling peddlers was appointed. It is quite probable that the question will take on a new meaning for the merchants and manufacturers of the town. It may develop into a protective bureau such as the chamber of commerce of Whittier maintains. The bureau prevents the sale of articles brought in from the outside if they are already for sale in the town, or if a local manufacturer makes them the articles must be made in the city in order to be sold.

Several other matters of minor importance were discussed at the meeting. Lunch was served and the main object of the meeting was to finish up the business of the recent membership campaign.

RINGSIDE NOTES OF ORANGE COUNCIL

ORANGE, July 18.—A petition for street lights on East Walnut street was presented to the city council yesterday and was filed. A representative of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association presented a petition to the council asking for an additional six men on the police force. Four night men and two day men were asked by the merchants.

Mayor Gunther, replying to the representative, stated that he believed that three new men would be sufficient, but even that number could not be considered at this time.

Orange Valuation 6 Million Dollars

ORANGE, July 18.—A $6,000,000 assessed valuation has been placed upon Orange for the year of 1923, according to figures in the office of City Clerk White. This is an increase of $1,500,000 over the past year's valuations.

Change Effects Increase
According to Mr. White, the increase of a million and a half is caused by the fact that for three or four years no change in assessed valuations had been made. However, according to him, with an increase in population of about twenty per cent, and nearly a million dollar's worth of new building in 1922-23, the values have gone up.

Nearly $350,000 of the increase is actual real estate that is new, he said.

Has Low Tax Rate
With rising values, increasing population, larger industries and natural growth, it is natural, it was said, that an aggressive town such as Orange should show a reasonable and healthy increase in valuation.

Orange has one of the lowest tax rates of any town of comparable situation in Southern California, according to Mr. White.

Orange Personals

ORANGE, July 18.—Earle Phillips and wife have left for a week's vacation at Santa Barbara. Thomas J. Martin has secured a permit for the erection of an $8,000 dwelling at 803 North Glassell street.

V. B. Van Decar will make improvements upon his home to the extent of $100, according to a permit secured by him. Miss Lois Hallman is expected back today from her camping at San Diego.

INCOME AND OUTGO
LONDON, July 18.—Sometimes England's income for a period isn't as great as her expenditures. During a recent week, according to official figures, the expenditures were 21,000,000,000. Revenue for the same seven days was only 13,000,000,000. Pounds of course.

NEWPORT BEACH FANS FEELING TO NEW FIRE

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—The decided difference of opinion as to the respective merits of the two sections of this harbor city will again be brought vividly to the attention of the people here Friday morning when the case against George Wilson, son of Joel Wilson, discharged police officer of Balboa, will come up for trial in Judge Byron Hall's police court.

Arrested July 3
Young Wilson is accused of disturbing the peace. He was arrested July 3 on complaint of the proprietor of a Balboa cafe, who is said to have alleged that Wilson threw a firecracker into his place of business.

Wilson maintains that after he was incarcerated in the city jail he was given the "third degree" by a police officer as yet unnamed. The "third degree" is claimed to have taken the form of a "wetting down" with fire hose. City Marshal J. A. Porter has stated that no such occurrence took place, adding that Wilson, himself, broke the water pipes and saturated himself.

The arrest of Wilson, together with the charges of the use of the "third degree," have laid to the circulation of a petition by the boy's father in Balboa calling upon the Newport Beach city council to remove Mr. Porter from his office. This petition, signed by 103 residents of Balboa, was presented this week to the city council, who referred it to the police committee for action. A report is to be submitted next Monday night when the council meets again.

In the meantime, it was claimed here today by supporters of the present city marshal a petition signed by even a larger number of people than on the Wilson petition, would be presented to the council asking the retention of Mr. Porter. The decision in the George Wilson case Friday may, however, have some effect on the action to be taken on the petition. For instance, if the charges of use of the "third degree" are sustained it may be that action unfavorable to the city marshal may be taken. If Porter is supported in his arrest of Wilson it may be that a "vote of confidence" is extended to him.

City Attorney Clyde Bishop of Newport Beach will appear for the municipality and Stanley Reinhaus will act as counsel for George Wilson. Judge Hall will call the trial at 10 o'clock. A generous attendance is expected.

PIONEER WOMAN OF TUSTIN STRICKEN

TUSTIN, July 18.—Mrs. Virginia Brookbank died yesterday afternoon about 11 o'clock. In the Tustin restaurant. Mrs. Brookbank is a pioneer resident of Tustin, and although she has been ill at various times she has said to have remarked in the morning she felt well.

Her death came as the result of a paralytic stroke which struck here about 11 o'clock in the morning. She had reported to the restaurant in the morning to help her daughter, Mrs. Harry Kiser, with the meals. Mrs. Brookbank was 66 years old and leaves one daughter, Mrs. Harry Kiser, and one son, Harry Brookbank, both of Tustin.

COLLEGE SINGERS HEARD IN CONCERT

ORANGE, July 18.—Orange listened to a local boy last night in concert. Albert Keuchel, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Keuchel, who is now attending Northwestern college at Naperville, Ill., appeared with the Northwestern Glee club last night at the high school auditorium.

The Glee club, which is touring the country, was engaged for a performance for an organ fund for the Orange Union High School. Comprising some twenty-five singers, the club presented a very pleasing musical program which was enjoyed by the large audience.

Laguna Beach Man is Seeking Chapter of Horse Shoe Club

(Special to The Register)
LAGUNA BEACH, July 18.—Laguna has, at one time or another, harbored devotees of nearly all sports, aquatics, naturally, leading in favor.

Tennis enthusiasts have been numerous, and lovers of horseback riding; and golf fiends have often lamented the lack of a course over which to pursue the elusive "pill."

Baseball, of course, since Laguna is the home of "Gavy" Cravath, holds a high place in the esteem of the population. But never until now has the humble game of "horseshoes" had an advocate in "Our Village."

Mr. John Jehle, formerly of St. Paul and now a resident of Laguna, is an ardent lover of the game and wants to have a

Beach Masons to Form Club Friday; To Pick Officers

NEWPORT BEACH, July 18.—Masons of Newport Beach, Balboa and Costa Mesa, together with any other members of the Square and Triangle order which may care to grace the meeting with their attendance, will gather at the city hall Friday evening for the purpose of forming an Orange County Harbor Masonic club. It was announced today by prominent members of the lodge here.

Masonic members from all Orange county towns have been lined up. Officers will be elected and a program of action planned for the summer months, it is said. The formation of the club will lead to the organization of a Masonic lodge here if sufficient interest is shown, leaders in the club movement declared.

CHURCH MOVING IS HELPED BY LITTLE TOTS

SEAL BEACH, July 17.—Even the buildings in Seal Beach have caught the summer wanderlust and the children of the Community church are waiting anxiously for the promised excitement of watching the church building make the move this week from the location on Sixth street to the more advantageous position on the corner of Central and Tenth.

In this movement they have a personal interest for they are collecting pennies and propose to get enough together to give it a real boost. Sixteen pennies in a row make one foot and according to their computing will move the church that distance. The exact distance between the two points as the crow flies will be reported next Sunday and a record kept on the blackboard showing how far the children are able to send it on its penny journey.

The officials in Washington seem to have unwound or wound up almost all of the red tape necessary for the relieving of Mr. May from duties as postmaster and the transfer of those obligations to B. B. Brown.

Mr. May has been a familiar figure in the postoffice for a good many years and it is like the taking away an old land mark.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hargart, Mr. Hargart's mother, and Mrs. Patterson came down from Norwalk the last of the week to spend the summer in their cottage on Ocean avenue.

Mrs. Newman is resting more comfortably and is looking forward eagerly to the coming of her son, Ben, who has wired that he will be with her very soon. With his coming she will have all her children at her bedside.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hillis and two children from Azusa are spending the hot months in their cottage near the landing on Ocean avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Ahern are enjoying the privilege of having their niece, Mildred, with them for the week end and Wednesdays. This will make it possible for Mrs. Ahern to take some much needed short outings.

Mr. and Mrs. Stoe of Covina are sojourning in the Swaggart cottage on Eighth street for two weeks.

Mr. Will Hansow, Mrs. Mabel Hamer and daughter, Elva, motored down from Anaheim to spend Sunday at the beach.

Mrs. Templeman's father and mother are moving into one of the newly completed bungalows in the Templeman court and her sister and husband into another. The elder couple have bought a corner lot on Central and Fifth and will have a home of their own there in the near future.

The Clements family have taken the John Thomson cottage on Thirteenth street.

Mr. and Mrs. Waterman of Pasadena have returned to Seal Beach for their vacation. They were here last summer.

The Hout family of Pasadena were down Sunday to engage a cottage for August.

The members of the Altar society are planning for something unique in the line of beach parties for next Saturday evening. Instead of the time worn wienie bake they are to substitute a corn roast, accompanied by other good things to eat and drink. The home of Mrs. Loftus on the bay across the bridge in the Ord addition has been chosen for the gathering and there will be boating and other sports.

ORDINANCE FOR SEWER BONDS DISCUSSED

ORANGE, July 18.—Tentative arrangements for the drawing up of an ordinance and resolution of intention regarding the proposed bond issue August 14 to construct and participate in the laying of Orange's portion of the "Four City" sewerage disposal system, discussed yesterday at a meeting of the city council, included the following main points:

Maximum interest of 5 per cent.
Bonds to run 25 years.
Bonds will be retired at the rate of $7,600 yearly.
Interest the first year is estimated at $9,500 to decrease each year.
Taxes will be increased about 10 cents per hundred dollars to $1.75.

The assessed valuation of Orange upon which returns can be realized will be six million dollars.

ORDINANCE FOR SEWER BONDS DISCUSSED

ORANGE, July 18.—Tentative arrangements for the drawing up of an ordinance and resolution of intention regarding the proposed bond issue August 14 to construct and participate in the laying of Orange's portion of the "Four City" sewerage disposal system, discussed yesterday at a meeting of the city council, included the following main points:

Maximum interest of 5 per cent.
Bonds to run 25 years.
Bonds will be retired at the rate of $7,600 yearly.
Interest the first year is estimated at $9,500 to decrease each year.
Taxes will be increased about 10 cents per hundred dollars to $1.75.

The assessed valuation of Orange upon which returns can be realized will be six million dollars.

Long Discussion
The fixing of the amount of bond issue and the rate of interest and period of time to run received lengthy discussion before the twenty-five-year five per cent was decided upon.

That the city council figured close, with a thought to economy of taxpayers' money, is evidenced by the fact that before drawing up any plans whatever, they examined bids received by Anaheim last week, and based their figures on the lowest bid offered there. Their estimate of $190,000 cut the former estimate of $200,000, saving at the offset, $10,000 public funds.

The increase in tax rate from $1.65 to $1.75 for the first year is not of any consequence, according to City Clerk White.

"Orange has a lower tax rate now than any town of comparable situation in Southern California," he pointed out to the city dais.

The $190,000 bond issue will run twenty-five years. Each year, one twenty-fifth of the principal, $7,600, will be retired. In this way, the city dais did not burden the future generations of Orange with a tax burden.

For the first year, if maximum interest is paid, the amount will be $9,500. The next year it will be less, decreasing each year until the end of the time set for retirement of the entire issue.

Issue Three Kinds
The bonds will be issued in three denominations, according to City Attorney Deering, in whose hands all the information has been placed.

At the meeting yesterday, all preliminary arrangements pertinent to the drawing up of ordinance and resolution were placed in Mr. Deering's hands. At the next meeting of the council, July 24, the resolution will be presented, and the ordinance be given a first reading.

City Engineer C. C. Bonebrake, consulted in the matter, stated that he believed that it would take at least a year to complete the job after it was started. Work will not start until the spring, according to Mayor Gunther.

"By the time we have sold the bonds, the rainy season will be here, and we can then get everything ready to start early in the spring," he said. Polling places were named for the city hall, the water plant, and Royer's garage.

Selection was made for elections committees in the three districts as follows:

Consolidated district number one: Inspector, Dierker; Mr. Allis and Mr. Gunther, judges; clerk, Blanche Liggett, Mrs. W. J. Richardson and C. B. Jojn.

Consolidated district number two: Inspector, Ross Miller; judges, Mrs. S. B. Edwards and I. J. Case; clerks, H. Wyneken, Mrs. M. E. Jemison and Mrs. L. E. Moore.

Consolidated district number three: Inspector, Mr. Camfield; judges, A. H. Heim and George Grant; clerks, George Elitiste, Letta McGill and Eva Collins.

These names have to be incorporated in the ordinance.

FUNERAL PARLOR IN ORANGE COMPLETED

ORANGE, July 18.—With the completion of the new Ellis Funeral parlors here, Orange now possesses one of the most modern and up-to-date funeral "homes" in the county, it is said.

The new parlors, situated on East Almond avenue near Glassell street, comprise a large chapel with a capacity of two hundred chairs, a family room, music room, room for floral setting and casket and an entire second floor devoted to display rooms.

The interior of the chapel is done in pastel tinted a soft gray. Light streams in through amber stained glass windows, throwing a soft light over the entire room. The family room is done in gray, with every appointment included. The work room of the new establishment is finished in white enamel, and is said to be one of the best in the state. It is fully equipped for posting work.

The building is two story, finished in cream stucco. The estimated cost of the new building and appointments ranges about $18,000.

A PUZZLE A DAY

The dial of the grandfather's clock shown above has letters on it instead of numbers. There are 11 letters and a star. Start counting from the proper point, and count a certain number around the circle. Check off the letter, and count the same number to another letter. Continue thus, and, if you have chosen the proper point and the proper interval, you will find the eleven letters form a word.

Yesterday's answer:
A certain number is as many less than 50 as four times the number is above 50. The number is 20. Twenty is 30 less than 50, while four times 20 (namely, 80), is 30 above 50.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Some day" you are going to write a book, paint a picture, pursue a study or engage in some great and glorious undertaking for the benefit of others. Are you telling the truth or just kidding yourself?"

THE MODERN FARM IN ART

It has been objected that artists and illustrated magazines in general present always a discouraging and dreary view of farm life in America. However much poets may sing of the charms of rural scenes and activities, the other view has persisted in pictorial art. A member of the U. S. Department of Agriculture recently spoke his views on this same subject. "Artists the world over continue to make the farmer the man with the hoe," he said. "The hoe age in agriculture is closed. The hoe farmer may still be found here and there, but his day is done. For the past 50 years there has been a titanic struggle in America to take the hoe out of farming, to take away the hoe manner of living, the hoe school, the hoe church. Machine farming has replaced hoe farming. Agricultural science has transformed farming from a traditional craft to a creative process."

He urged artists of America to express this modern conception of farming in their symbolic works and in architecture.

The prosperous farmer riding his modern power machinery does not at first glance seem to be so suitable a subject for the artist's pencil as his predecessor with the hoe. But artists have already done beautiful things with more trying subjects such as factories, shipyards, steel mills and ore docks. When they see the vision of the "creative process" farmer they may do equally beautiful things with the modern farm for subject.

NOISELESS STREET CARS

What are said to be the first noiseless street cars in the world have been put into service by the Twin City Rapid Transit company, operating in St. Paul and Minneapolis.

The mechanical difference between them and the usual noisy type of car is not great. It consists in improved trucks provided with roller bearings. Those bearings make not only quiet running but easy riding, just as similar bearings do in automobiles, on roller skates or anywhere else—a fact which would hardly seem to have needed demonstration.

Likewise it is not at all surprising to learn that the new trucks, by eliminating friction, save 12 to 15 per cent of the power. People everywhere ought to be interested in this new adaptation of a very familiar principle to a type of vehicle that has long needed it. And why not apply it to railroad cars, too?

Noise always means waste of power. Physicians say it means waste of nervous power and engineers say it means waste of mechanical power. Yet a surprising amount of it persists.

STUDYING THE PHILIPPINES

Anyone who feels the urge to write a history about the Philippines should act at once. It is said that there is now an unprecedented demand for authoritative textbooks dealing with the life and customs, the history and the proposed independence of the Philippine Islands.

The independence commission itself is preparing a handbook setting forth glowingly the natural assets of the islands and the attractive opportunities open to American capital.

It is expected that the question of Philippine independence will be raised in the next United States Congress. The sudden demand for literature on that subject and allied topics is the result. The islands are flooding the country with their propaganda in favor of independence.

It is interesting to note that publishers evidently anticipate a general demand for these books. In these days politicians and interested officials are not the only ones who study up on such matters. The whole public, to a greater extent than formerly, turns its attention to the problems in hand. It is a growing tendency of intelligent citizenship that carries much fair promise for the future.

TALE OF WAYSIDE INN

All Americans interested in the preserving of early landmarks will appreciate the action of Henry Ford in buying the Wayside Inn of South Sudbury, Mass., with the intention of turning it into a historical museum.

That famous hostelry was built in 1656, and is surprisingly well preserved. It testifies to the fine craftsmanship as well as the generous spirit of a bygone age. Many generations have admired its spaciousness, comfort and rugged strength, along with its rich memories. It has housed Washington, Lafayette and scores of other heroes whose names are woven into our national history. It is immortalized in the poems of Longfellow. The assured preservation of such a shrine is a welcome public service.

It is interesting, too, for the new light it sheds on Henry Ford. He must be changing. A man who pays $200,000 to turn an early Colonial inn into a historical museum surely does not believe any longer that history and tradition are "bunk".

RUSSIA'S SHACKLED PRESS

A Russian-born representative of the New York World, Samuel Spewack, presents an almost incredible picture of the Russian press.

He had been reading the leading Soviet newspapers for a year. He has spent much time in their offices. He knows their editors and reporters, and speaks their language. He should know, therefore what he is talking about.

Now, safely outside of Russia, Mr. Spewack reports that every newspaper in that country is the organ of the Soviet government and every newspaper editor is bound by the discipline of the Communist party. There is no pretense of presenting news. The newspapers are published solely "to create public opinion which will favor what the government favors."

"Accordingly, every editorial is a government pronouncement, every story a government interpretation. News is distorted, faked and colored as no subversive press anywhere else would attempt. No opposition press exists."

As a result, the people have no means of judging events, domestic or foreign, and know nothing about what is going on outside of Russia.

That is the way the Bolshevik leaders retain their power. It may take a long time for such a drugged population to wake up. But when they do, what will happen to the present regime?

If that is the way Bolshevik leaders retain their power, they are riding to a fall. It may take a long time for the drugged population to wake up, but they will wake up. Even in Russia, all the people cannot be fooled all the time.

Action Is Imperative

El Centro Press.

About the single word, co-operation, sermons may be preached, or the most calculating business transactions planned. But it is in the latter sense that we are using this oft-repeated word today, and in connection with a present problem which is confronting Imperial Valley today.

Fifteen years ago the files of the Imperial Valley Press carried a statement given out by one of the prominent cantaloupe men of that time as to the reason for the poor market price which local melons were bringing in the east that season. The explanation given then was that the farmers at that time saw no reason for co-operating in the matter of planning the cantaloupe acreage; that every grower was for himself, and in his desire to "clean up big," a far larger acreage than could profitably be disposed of was planted.

At that period, this shipper warningly stated, everyone was acquainted with the fact that 75 cars of melons were all that the eastern market could stand. Shades of the past! how we who have been watching the cantaloupe shipments for the past season smile. Nevertheless, at that time it was a serious matter when 125 cars were daily dumped onto a market which called for 50 less than that number.

Since that day 15 years ago, the demand for Imperial Valley cantaloupes has doubled and redoubled, and still increases. And though this happy circumstance is helping us, yet the basic problem is yet unsolved, and one need hark back to the past only as far as last season to find a vividly concrete example.

It is not intended at this time to discuss the recent car shortage and its effects. We are concerned with present and future problems. At this time, there is just one vital question which comes before the growers and shippers of Imperial Valley for immediate attention and forceful action; that is the necessity of winning the controversy with the railroads at the hearing on July 16 before the Interstate Commerce Commission in Chicago on the subject of the shipment of "dry" cars.

A New Wonderland?

Fresno Republican.

Although The Republican party, which recently went into the Kings river canyon, was unable to make a complete exploration of the mass of caves found there, enough was seen to justify the belief that here will be found another great mountain wonderland.

Because of the limited time, only a few of the caves were visited and even these were not fully explored. The members of the party came to the conclusion, however, that there should be a complete investigation and feel that when this is made there will have been discovered for us a scenic wonder incomparable.

The Commercial Secretaries association some time ago acted upon information given to it and recommended that these caves be set aside as a national monument, but this, of course, will not be possible until they have been fully explored.

At the present time the caves are practically inaccessible except to the most hardy. The country in which they are located is some of the wildest in the mountains and those who have visited them have gone in only after hard work.

There is no immediate possibility of their becoming a general public attraction and even if the scenic value should justify the establishment of a national monument, and warrant the building of roads or trails to them, some of them would still be practically inaccessible except to persons of Al-pine abilities. There is, however, enough information on hand to warrant the expenditure of more money and effort to find out what we really have.

We Are Not Getting Worse

San Diego Union.

A little less than 15 years ago, Henry Farman cranked up a flying machine and made a flight of one minute and "seconds" duration. The flight was a huge success, eclipsing all previous efforts for duration in the air with heavier-than-air machines. The world marveled. Then, a few months later, Wilbur Wright actually flew through the air for more than an hour and a half! Another success. Another nine-days' wonder.

How curiously, though, Lieut. Maughan's recent "failure" contrasts with Farman's "success." Farman flew nearly a minute and a half. Lieut. Maughan flew for nearly nine hours, crossed half the United States and was prevented from continuing only because of a topped feed pipe and the aimless wanderings of a couple of Missouri cows over the pasture he was forced to use for a landing field.

Success and failure—and everything else in human conduct—are measured by the yardstick of the day and hour, not by enduring standards fixed for all time. Because of this, our failures are pretty often indications of actual success.

Something like this we are tempted to preach to folks who wall that the world is getting worse and worse, heading straight to the demitition bow-wow and ultimate perdition. We're not getting worse. Our standards are getting better. That's all.

Hero Awards to Radio Men

Pasadena Star-News.

The radio operator, on board a ship at sea, who sticks to his post while the ship is burning—when death in horrible guise is hovering near—sticks to his post and puts superhuman alertness and energy into calls for aid and into messages to those who respond—this radio operator has earned the much-abused title, "hero."

Three young men who exemplified heroic spirit in the disaster which befell the City of Honolulu, far out at sea, in October, 1922, have been given gold medals of honor and checks for $500 each. The awards were made to W. P. Bell, chief radio operator of the ship, and his assistants, H. D. Hancock and N. C. Kummer.

Courageous, devoted action of this kind cannot be compensated fully. Money and medals are only symbols, not payment in full. Heroic action is not paid for on a wage basis. It is fitting, however, that those who display unusual courage and self-sacrificing devotion to duty in serving or safeguarding others, should be given honorable recognition. Awards of the kind given these three young radio operators are commendable. They stimulate the patriotic spirit of others. And they stimulate the people to be appreciative of heroic action.

The Barrier

For President---Who?

San Bernardino Sun

Is it possible that out of a group of 321 citizens—men and women in San Bernardino, there are 138, nearly 45 per cent, who have no Presidential preference, or who do not know which candidate they favor?

Goldsmith had other reasons in mind when his muse directed him to write—

"Ill fares the land, to hastening ills a prey," but we know of nothing that will make a prey of the Republic sooner than for men and women to forget the first duty of citizenship. Most of them know what movie star pleases them best, there are few who cannot give an opinion instantly as to the qualities of motorists, many of them are alleged to have their favorite boot-eager, but 45 per cent of the people inquired of by The Sun telephone operators this week don't care a hang who is elected President of the United States! Can you beat it?

Brethren and sisters, there will be an election for President and Congress in November, 1924, and the men—and women—who may be elected will be called upon to face some of the most critical questions of internal policy since the Liberty Bell rang out in Philadelphia in 1776. It is true that Uncle Henry, in his delightful page of politics and near-politics in a national weekly avers "It's a cinch that every campaign from now to eternity is goin' to find America on the brink of disaster or the verge of ruin," so there may be nothing to worry about. But there would be less if 100 per cent of us had some political opinions and knew why.

Worth While Verse

A SEA FANTASY

Oh, to dash through the silvery spray, swim far out to sea, Fight the strong rush of the waves—surging, lashing, free!
Sniff the salt tang in the air, hear the breakers roar,
See them arching flecked with foam rumbling toward the shore!

Oh, to breast the icy surf, rise on wave-crests high,
Watch the glinting gulls swim low, catch their peevish cry!
Forge ahead through choppy swells, taste the bitter brine,
Feel the clean, refreshing breeze, hear its doleful whine!
Hark to distant buoy-bells through the seas loud wail;
Tossed on white-capped waves afar, glimpse, a wind-filled sail;
Dive beneath the surface fret, peer through jade-green blur,
Snatch a tinted, glistening shell, peaceful sands bestir;
Come up breathless, laughing, gay, leave the tranquil deep,
Tangled in seaweed and foam through the breakers leap!

Oh, to sport in summer seas, swim far out from shore!
Battle with the winds and tide, hear the breakers roar!
Feel the stinging slap of waves in the rough wild sea;
Plunge through wind-blown, hissing sprays, breathless, joyous, free!
—By Selma Morse in St. Nicholas.

ROCKED HUSBAND TO SLEEP—

"Where are you going to in such a hurry?"
"To the police station to get a warrant for my wife's arrest."
"On what charge?"
"Rocking me to sleep."
"You can't have your wife arrested for rocking you to sleep."
"Can't I? You should see the rock."—London Tit-Bits.

THE VALUE AND THE PRICE.

The artist was showing the dealer some of his latest work.
"What is the value of this?" the dealer asked, regarding one piece of painting.
"I place a value of $25,000 on that picture. Do you agree with me?"
"Heartily," said the dealer. "And by the way, I know a guy I think would give a hundred and fifty dollars for it."
"Sold!" said the painter.

HEARTLESS MAN.

"Daddy," said his weeping little daughter, "a naughty man broke my new sled with his automobile."
"Did he?" cried her father, jumping up. "Where is he?"
"Oh, you'll easily catch him, daddy," said the little one. "Two men just carried him into a drug store."—Boston Transcript.

I was setting on my front steps and somebody started to yell to me down at the corner. Being Puds Simkins saying, Hay Benny, Persey Weever's getting his shoes shined in front of the barber shop, come on erround and lets kid him.

Wich I ran down and we started to hurry up erround, me saying, The darn sissey, I hope they aint all shined before we get there, I hope.

G, we'll kid the life out of him, the darn sissey, even if he is my own cuzzin, Puds sed.

And we hurry up kepp on going, and wen we got erround there who was standing there watching Persey get a shine but Mary Watkins, being a grate chance to show off, I sed, Hello, Persey, wats you think you're doing, getting your shoes shined?

Hay Persey, be sure to get a good shine so you can see to powder your nose in it, Puds sed. Persey not saying anything on account of properly not being able to think of anything good enuf, and Mary Watkins sed, Its a wonder you 2 woudnt go home and brush your own shoes insted of coming erround heer making fun of Persey. Look how his look and look how yours look. My goodness sutch looking shoes, she sed.

Meaning mine and Pudses, me saying, Mine was all rite this morning, you awt to of saw them this morning.

Mine jest got this way, they looked swell a little while ago, Puds sed. And Persey got down and paid the shoe shine man as if he thawt he was somebody grate, and me and Puds started to wawk away feeling gilty and Persey went home with Mary Watkins wawking exter carefull to kepp from bumping his shine.

IN THE LONG AGO

From the Register Files

JULY 18, 1909
While hunting in the mountains southeast of Peralta, Mike Lopez, an Anaheim barber, found the decomposed body of a man. Authorities have gone into the mountains to investigate.

J. W. Morrison, Orange, chairman of the Republican County Central committee, told Dr. C. D. Ball that he would call a meeting of the central committee if Dr. Ball and those associated with him want it, but that the meeting would do no good, as a majority of the committee has already signed a petition asking that T. B. Talbert, Huntington Beach, be appointed supervisor to succeed G. W. Moore, resigned.

A statement from about thirty residents of Tustin has been sent to the Santa Ana postoffice protesting against the intrusion of a Santa Ana rural carrier route into an area served by the Tustin post-office.

Marriage licensees: Charles Clayton and Louise Schramm, both of Santa Ana; Frank G. Davis and Winnie Conn, both of Santa Ana; James P. McReynolds and Stella Teel, both of Santa Ana.

Huntington Beach chamber of commerce has named a committee to confer with the P. E. relative to getting more cars on the Los Angeles line.

Greatest of States

By Norman H. Sloane, San Francisco, Manager of the California Development Association.

The files of the research and information department of the California Development association, the State Chamber of Commerce, show that California has the greatest variety of economic interests of any place in the world, and they are, the most unusual, significant and broadest group as well.

California is a great agricultural state. It is a great commercial state and a great industrial state. That is true greatness in itself and alone stamps her as being among the unusual communities of the world. But when these broad divisions of economic activity are subdivided and analyzed, as I have had the opportunity of doing from the files of our department of research and information, this empire of the West becomes the most unusual and greatest of all countries on the face of the earth.

Of all states, California is the most varied agriculturally. Her crops embrace nearly the whole catalogue—the products of New England, of Florida, of the Middle West and the Northwest, of much of the South and, in addition, the romantic, high-priced crops of Italy, Spain, Persia, Greece and Sicily. These crops are not grown as curiosities or an experiment, but habitually, commercially and profitably.

Within California's boundaries are grown 102 distinct classes of soil products, according to lists of the last census. Other states, such as Illinois and Iowa, have large departments of agriculture and efficient agricultural experiment stations, but their problems are simpler because the number of their important agricultural products is less. For example, in Iowa, one of the leading states in the total value of her agricultural products, the census lists 76 classes of such products, or 26 less in number than are listed for California.

The extreme of climate and other agricultural conditions which make California adaptable to such a variety of products also increase the difficulties of efficient supervision, standardization and experimentation. The agricultural experiment station is carrying on 146 experimental projects ranging from the Imperial Valley, 400 miles south, to Shasta county, 200 miles north, while the Department of Agriculture finds it necessary to meet every ship that touches our shores from foreign or inter-territorial points, every rail shipment of agricultural products coming across the state line, for protection, and standardizes the vegetable, fruit and animal industry over the entire state for our commercial benefit.

Of the entire nation's output, California produces:

Almonds	100 per cent
Lemons	100 per cent
Lima Beans	100 per cent
Raisins	98 per cent
Figs	98 per cent
Walnuts	96 per cent
Olives	90 per cent
Dates	90 per cent
Grapes	85 per cent
Prunes	75 per cent
Apricots	75 per cent
Asparagus	60 per cent
Oranges	55 per cent
Lettuce	33 per cent

Health Notes

A PEEP INTO THE FUTURE

The National Health Council, a combination of the thirteen greatest medical and public health organizations in America, has announced says the United States Public Health Service, that during the twelve months beginning July 4 next it will endeavor to persuade every person in the United States to take a peep into the future to see what the condition of his health will be a few years hence. Anybody who does not like what he sees will be told what he can do to better it.

For ages men have sought to probe the future by reading the stars, consulting the oracles, visiting fortune tellers and mediums, and even by watching for the groundhog on! reading the goose-bone. But always, in all ages, when men sought information concerning the future they coupled their request with the question, unspoken, but always understood: "Will I be there to see the prophesy fulfilled?"

It is not so difficult as it may seem to predict how long a man will retain his health or will live. His "expectation of life" is particularly easy to estimate: Subtract his age from 80; and if his health is good he will probably live for more than two-thirds of the difference.

"But is his health good? Is your health good?" asks the National Health Council. "That is the question!"

A life insurance company can answer the question pretty accurately. Unless it does so it is bound to go bankrupt sooner or later. So it finds out the sort of work you are doing, inquires into your family history, and wants to be told what illnesses you have had. Finally it examines you physically, not merely to find out whether you are sound at the moment, but whether you have any unsuspected disease whose existence neither you nor any one else could know from ordinary observation. It considers also whether your lungs, heart, stomach, etc., are able to prevent "germ" diseases from getting a foothold in your body or to drive them out after they have gotten a foothold.

Most persons think of death as coming from one of the great diseases—typhoid fever, for instance. But it isn't these that do the real damage. It's the hidden things that weaken your organs without your knowing it till the test comes.

It is for instance, the abscess at the root of a tooth that may infect the pus that injures the kidneys; the infected tonsils that discharge a pus that causes rheumatism; the little lump beneath the skin that some day changes into a deadly cancer; the work that strains one's weakest spot till it gives away, when another sort of work would do no harm.

All these things can be and will be investigated under the council's plan by a reputable physician—by each person's family doctor, if he likes. The council hopes that at least 10,000,000 persons, say 30,000 a day, will have themselves examined during the twelve months beginning July 4 next. It is a big job; and to make it easier the council suggests that every one should be examined on his own birthday—even those born on February 29, for 1924 is leap year.

This national health examination campaign will unquestionably markedly lengthen the average human life. Its span in the United States was lengthened from 41 to 56 during the fifty years that elapsed between 1870 to 1920; and it will be lengthened during the next fifty years by at least twenty years more, according to the American Public Health association.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Olive Roberts Barton

NO. 12—THE SNEEZIES.

The land on the other side of the Rainbow door certainly was queer.

People you never would believe could happen anywhere. Not even in fairy tale books.

Long before the Twins got to Sneezetown with Mister Sky Bow, they heard a loud a-chooing and louder nose blowing that sounded like the Fourth of July. The sneezing sounded like whizzers and the nose blowing sounded like fire-crackers.

When they finally got near to Sneezetown, they could hardly see the place for the number of pocket handkerchiefs drying on the clothes line.

But soon a Sneezey saw them and called a greeting. "Hello!" he shouted. "Come and have some snuff and get a nice red nose. No one in Sneezetown is fashionable unless he has a red nose. A-choo! Oh, how lovely! A-choo! A-choo! A-choo, choo, choo!"

"My, you sound like a train!" said Nick.

The Sneezey whirled around three times then stopped to sneeze again before he answered.

"Train nothing! We sound like the finest kind of automobiles. Besides every sneeze takes away another cobweb off our brains. Pardner me! Have you cobwebs on your brains?"

Nancy laughed. "The teacher says so when we can't get our lessons," she answered.

"Then snuff's what you need," shouted the Sneezey and before anyone could stop him he opened the lid of his snuff box and blew in.

Instantly Nancy and Nick and Mister Sky Bow were sneezing like good fellows.

"That's the way!" cried the Sneezey. "Now you've got fine red noses and the cobwebs are all gone. I'll bet you, you can get your lessons now."

"One lesson I've got," said Mister Sky Bow. "Never to bring them to Sneezetown again."
